Nobel Peace Prize goes to Venezuelan leader Machado, who dedicates it to US President

THANK GOD IT'S NOT TRUMP!

Humbled, grateful

"This is something that the Venezuelan people deserve," Machado said in a call with the Nobel Institute. 'I am just part of a huge movement... I'm humbled, I'm grateful and I'm honoured."

AGENCIES

THERE was a collective sigh of relief across the world after the Norwegian Nobel committee awarded the Nobel Peace Prize to Venezuelan opposition leader Maria Corina Machado, passing over US President Donald Trump in the process.

Months of badgering by Trump for the most coveted award came to nought despite loads of nominations in his favour. He knew he had little chance of making it, as most of those nominations came after the February 1 deadline for this year's award, yet he went on bullying the Nobel committee like a spoilt child. That the panel showed spine to fob him off came like a breath of fresh air.

After the announcement, he went into a sulk, despite Machado dedicating the award to Trump. "Today, more than ever we count on President Trump, the people of the United States, the peoples of Latin America, and the democratic nations of the world as our main allies to achieve freedom and democracy," she said.

Her opposition to Venezuela President Nicolas Maduro aligns with the Trump administration's stance. Secretary of State Marco Rubio had previously praised her as 'the personification of resilience, tenacity, and patriotism'.

The first nation to face Trump's anger was China, as he said he no longer felt it necessary to meet President Xi Jinping at the Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation summit later this month. He lit into China's hostile trade practices, including new export controls on rare earths, and threatened it with massive tariff hikes.

Democracy activist Machado who sought to challenge President Maduro in last year's elections, has become a "unifying" figure in Venezuela, the Nobel jury said. "In the past year, Ms Machado has been forced to live in hiding," said Jorgen Watne Frydnes, chair of the Nobel committee. "Despite serious threats against her life, she has remained in the country, a choice that has inspired millions. When authoritarians seize power, it is crucial to recognise courageous defenders of freedom who rise and resist."

Machado was set to run against Maduro in last year's presidential election, but the government disqualified her. She then campaigned for her stand-in, ex-diplomat Edmundo Gonzalez Urrutia, seen by much of the international community as the rightful winner. The run-up to the election saw widespread repression, including disqualifications, arrests and human rights violations to 'steal' the mandate.

It's not for me to judge whether the current US president deserves the Nobel prize — I don't know. He's really doing a lot to resolve these complex crises, which have lasted for years, even decades

Vladimir Putin, Russian President

It should... remind those of us lucky enough to live in America that we have a solemn responsibility to constantly preserve and defend our own hard-won democratic traditions

Barack Obama, former US President

Nobel laureates Abhijit Banerjee, Duflo to leave US

AGENCE FRANCE PRESSE @Geneva

US-based Nobel laureates Esther Duflo and Abhijit Banerjee will soon join the University of Zurich, where they will establish a new centre for development economics, the institution said Friday.

The University of Zurich (UZH) said the married couple, who won the 2019 Economics Nobel alongside Michael Kremer, and currently work at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT), would join its economics faculty from July next year. They will be moving to Switzerland at a time when experts have warned that US President Donald Trump's cuts to research funding and attacks on academic freedoms could lead to a brain drain.

Priyank: Govt not taking right decisions on city woes

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

IT-BT Minister Priyank Kharge on Friday said more than traffic, urban planning is a major challenge in Bengaluru and the state government is not taking right decisions as it does not have enough urban planners.

The government's approach to urban planning is "knee-jerk", while it should instead be taking right decisions and forming long-term planning solutions, he said.

The state has not built the urban planning skill talent pool and a change in policy is needed. "People should be empathetic towards the government and say what is required, set short and medium-term goals and long-term milestones, instead of using hashtags to point at mistakes," he added.

Speaking at a day-long Mobility Symposium-2025, organised by MoveInSync, he said, "While other countries have ministries for AI, we need a ministry for common sense. There is a need for better urban planning as Bengaluru needs to deliver and grow better." P2

India upgrades its technical mission in Kabul to embassy

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

IN a recalibrated diplomatic strategy, India has officially upgraded its Technical Mission in Kabul to a full-fledged Embassy, the clearest sign yet of New Delhi's intent to deepen engagement with Afghanistan under Taliban rule.

The announcement was made at External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar's meeting in New Delhi with Afghanistan's Acting Foreign Minister Amir Khan Muttaqi on Friday, where the two leaders held wide-ranging discussions spanning security cooperation, infrastructure, humanitarian aid, education, trade, and people-to-people ties.

Muttaqi used the occasion to publicly reassure India on one of its core concerns: terrorism emanating from Afghan soil. "We had a detailed discussion on security cooperation. We will not allow Afghan territory to be used against any country," he said. He further urged restraint over cross-border tensions, cautioning that "issues cannot be solved through this approach" and referencing Afghanistan's historical resistance to foreign aggression. "The Afghan people's patience and courage should not be challenged. If someone doesn't know, they should ask the British, Soviets, or Americans."

In response, Jaishankar acknowledged Kabul's assurances and said that India and Afghanistan shared a common goal peace, prosperity, and regional stability. "We appreciate your sensitivity towards India's security concerns. Your solidarity with us in the aftermath of the Pahalgam terrorist attack was noteworthy," he said.

Mahadevapura split between 2 corpns: HC notice to state on PIL

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court issued notice to the state government on Friday in a public interest litigation challenging the alleged arbitrary division of Mahadevapura Assembly Constituency between Bengaluru East City Corporation and Bengaluru South City Corporation.

A division bench of Chief Justice Vibhu Bakhru and Justice C M Poonacha passed the order after hearing the petition filed by Harish P S and Dilip Kumar R alleging that their constituency has been split between the two city corporations, which is arbitrary and a violation of Section 26(3) of the Greater Bengaluru Governance Act, 2024.

The petitioners, who are the voters of the Mahadevapura Assembly Constituency, contended that several villages, including Ambalipura, Harlur, Kaikondrahalli, Kasavanahalli, KPCL Layout, Junnasandra, and Doddakannalli, were unilaterally divided between South and East City Corporations by issuing a notification dated September 2, 2025, despite objections filed on August 14, 2025, on behalf of voters, residential welfare associations and other activists.

The petitioners stated that only a small portion has been placed under Bengaluru South City Corporation, while the larger portion remains within Bengaluru East City Corporation. Such classification results in administrative disintegration and jurisdictional overlap, creating ambiguity as to which zonal body is responsible for civic services, leading to duplication in some areas and neglect in others, they alleged.

They have also stated that the division gives rise to serious electoral complications. Splitting villages, wards, and portions of a single ward between two corporations undermines the accuracy of voter rolls, risks disenfranchising legitimate voters, and complicates the logistics of conducting free and fair elections.

CLEAR GARBAGE AND TRAFFIC, CM TELLS OFFICIALS AT FIRST GBA MEET

Inter-agency coordination, waste management, tax collection, connectivity top agenda

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

Workers get the GBA head office ready ahead of the maiden meeting of the civic agency in Bengaluru on Friday | VINOD KUMAR T

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah on Friday chaired the maiden Greater Bengaluru Authority (GBA) meeting at its head office, and directed officials to ensure better coordination between parastatal agencies such as Bengaluru Development Authority (BDA), Bangalore Water Supply and Sewerage Board (BWSSB), Bangalore Electricity Supply Company (Bescom) and Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited (BMRCL).

The CM was addressing city legislators, heads of parastatal agencies, DG&IGP, City Police Commissioner and other top officials. "The corporations should take steps for proper garbage disposal. All municipal commissioners should increase tax collection in their jurisdictions. Priority should be given to waste disposal and cleanliness. Footpaths should be made as wide as possible, and quality should not be compromised," the CM instructed committee members. He directed them to plan for last-mile connectivity for Metro lines to reduce traffic congestion. The transport minister was instructed to review the deployment of small buses to address congestion.

With opposition BJP and JDS leaders boycotting the first GBA meeting, Siddaramaiah, without taking names, said people's representatives have an opportunity to express their opinions freely here, but some representatives have missed this opportunity. Those opposed to the development of Bengaluru and decentralization of power have boycotted this meeting, he said.

Joining the CM in condemning the opposition, Deputy Chief Minister and Bengaluru Development Minister DK Shivakumar said, "BJP is working against Bengaluru. The people gave them an opportunity to work, but they are working against them. I am saddened by their absence. Let them all say they don't want to contest elections and boycott," he said.

Shivakumar said one of the key takeaways is that the powers of BDA as a planning authority outside BBMP is now transferred to GBA, which will also decide on Transferable Development Rights. The Executive Committee and Central Coordination Committee will be formed for smooth administration of the five new corporations. "The Executive Committee of the GBA will monitor implementation and execution of all schemes, programmes and initiatives and consider the matter at the GBA meeting. The Central Coordination Committee will review the progress of major projects, inter-agency coordination and implementation of GBA resolutions," said Shivakumar.

Unconstitutional, says Ashoka

Boycotting the first-ever GBA meeting, Leader of Opposition R Ashoka said, "The Greater Bengaluru Authority has rendered all five municipal corporations ineffective. All powers have been given to the CM, and the councils will have no authority. Since this is against the Constitution, we have boycotted the meeting. It is also harmful to Bengaluru. We have discussed this with BJP MLAs and will fight it legally. This action strangles public representatives and is illegal."

He said the GBA meeting was called in haste, and the invitation given just one day earlier. "Information should have been given at least seven days in advance. The agenda was given at noon, and there was no time even to read it. According to the 74th Amendment of the Constitution, the mayor heads municipal corporations, and presidents head panchayats. But in Bengaluru, the CM heads the five corporations, so what is the need for mayors? Engineers have been appointed and instead of the corporation, they will carry out all works after the chief minister himself approves the projects," he said.

Speaking at the two-day Confederation of Indian Industry (CII) India Innovation Summit – Innoverge 2025, Kharge added that Karnataka's ecosystem leads globally in artificial intelligence (AI) skill penetration and research and development (R&D) output, ranking among the top five AI cities worldwide.

Highlighting the state's 3P model, Kharge said, "Our success lies in our three Ps — People, Policy and Participation. Unless we listen to people, work with industries, startups and academia, and ensure everyone participates, we cannot move forward."

With 40% of India's R&D talent, 30% of all Global Capability Centres, and 48 of the country's 110 unicorns, Karnataka drives the nation's digital economy. "We are investing Rs 1,000 crore to build innovation clusters across Mangaluru, Mysuru, Hubballi-Dharwad and Belagavi, ensuring that the benefits of growth reach every region. Karnataka today is not competing with other states; we are competing with ourselves to create global solutions," he said.

Each corpn to have 2-4 urban planners

Bengaluru: To ensure transparency and completion of projects in a time-bound manner, digital boards displaying details like the time frame will be put up at project sites, said Greater Bengaluru Authority Chief Commissioner Maheshwar Rao on Friday. On the sidelines of the urban mobility symposium, Rao said the initiative will start soon and coordination of all government departments is needed for it to take off. "We have asked for project details and plans from all government departments, along with the financial and contract document details. Timely execution depends upon availability of funds. Transparency and timely execution of projects is essential," Rao said. He said two-four urban planners will be involved with each of the five corporations to focus on planning and quick execution of projects. ENS

Tram feasibility study in two weeks: Surya

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

BJP MP Tejasvi Surya on Friday said the city's rail network should be strengthened for better mobility. The first and last mile connectivity is a major challenge and to address this, a feasibility study on tram service will be undertaken in the next two weeks.

At the Mobility Symposium - 2025, he said a proposal was submitted to the Centre sometime ago to start tram service in Bengaluru, like in other global cities. The study will be conducted in areas prone to traffic congestion. If approved, the Centre will implement the project, he added. Surya said the government's car-centric policy should change. Bus services should be improved by involving private firms. The government should only regulate and monitor the services.

On the condition of city's roads, he said, "Potholes are like Kamadhenu for contractors and officials. If the potholes are fixed properly, they need not be relayed again and again. But that is not happening. Pothole-filling should not be an achievement for the CM and DCM to be showcased."

City adopting other countries' mobility best practices, says B-SMILE chief

BS Prahallad, Director, Bengaluru Smart Infrastructure Ltd (B-SMILE) on Friday said the city will witness a construction and infrastructure boom in the next five years. Speaking to The New Indian Express on the sidelines of the urban mobility symposium, he said the best practices from all over the world are being adopted and the city's mobility needs to be improved. On the controversial Tunnel Road project, Prahallad said if there is any other solution to decongest the North-South and East-West corridors, then people should suggest. "We are ready to take suggestions of alternative solutions," he added. ENS

Govt just making excuses, says Pai

ALLEGING lack of financial support from the Centre to build infrastructure, Priyank Kharge said Bengaluru contributes Rs 4.5lakh crore to the Centre annually. Even if 4% of that money is returned, it can be utilised to improve Bengaluru's infrastructure and mobility, he said.

Strongly criticising Kharge's statements, former Infosys CFO Mohandas Pai said the state has more than enough urban planners, but they are not being utilised. "It is just an excuse the government is making. There is no need to give freebies and facilities to all the people of Karnataka as 60% of Karnataka is not poor. Give it to the needy. People in urban areas do not need free power supply. Instead of criticising the Prime Minister for everything, ask him for funds. I have interacted with the PM and he has expressed his fondness for Bengaluru. He also said state leaders are not approaching him for funds," he added.

Priyank Kharge

Mohandas Pai

Pai, who is also chairman of 3one4 Capital and Co-Founder and CEO of Aarin Capital, said that the UPA government, which was led by Congress that is in power in the state, allocated far less funds to the state when it was in power.

On the Satellite Town Ring Road (STRR) project to ease traffic in Bengaluru, he said the state government should ask Union Road Transport Minister Nitin Gadkari help to build it. He objected to Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar's statement that they are helpless in addressing the problem of potholes and craters are found in other cities too. "The DCM saying they are helpless is not good. There are no potholes in London. Delhi roads are better. Over the years, Rs 74,000 crore has been spent on repairing potholes. Where has the money gone? The DCM is a powerful leader, he should break the pothole mafia. There is mismanagement in the way the government is working, because of which Metro work is getting delayed," he criticised.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
One person's "mistake" is another person's moment to shine. When someone forgets, it creates an opening for someone else to remember. A task missed becomes a "good catch." Slips aren't failure; rather, they set the stage for collaboration.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 - May 20)
The delayed reward finally arrives! Wow, this is more than expected and so worth the wait. But of course, you never really waited. Sure, time passed, but you busied yourself. You may have even forgotten this was coming. Surprise and congratulations.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 21)
Your magic today is that you're not inclined to complicate things. You find the good in what you've already done, make it sound impressive and remind yourself that you're already winning by being here.

All partnerships involve negotiation and trade-offs. It is best to accept the tension between your own desires and the other person's as inevitable, and take heart in the fact that harmony prevails alongside compromise.

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 22)
Some will "get" you, and others won't. It's a liberation. You don't have to present to everyone. And if you do decide to take a risk and do your thing, it's merely a strength exercise. Courage is the muscle to build.

Powerful people have a tendency toward pride. They would often rather appear strong than receive care. They sometimes don't trust help or just prefer to go it alone. You're sensitive, respectful and accommodating, which makes you a favorite.

Clarity is your gift. You'll make important distinctions. You'll see the difference between power and leadership, taste and money, beauty and conformity. Because of this, your decisions resonate with nobility that makes a difference in the world.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 21)
Things have changed. Take a moment to figure out the niche that fits you best. Self-questioning helps. For instance: When you finish a job, how do you feel? Are you ready to try again immediately? Or are you just relieved?

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21)
It's the move of champions: Put yourself in the company of people you can learn from. If you feel a bit nervous or somehow inadequate around them, that's actually a good sign -- a harbinger of personal growth to come.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19)
Everything seems important, which makes prioritizing a challenge. What's worth working on now: being present to what's going on inside you. Knowing yourself better makes the ideal order of events obvious.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)
As you apply your talent, business just keeps favoring you. It feels like you're playing, though very purposefully. Anyone you once thought of as competition now occurs to you as more of a trainer or perhaps a muse.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - Mar 20)
Control is often protective armor. People cling to control to feel safe, secure or "on top" of things. Letting go of it means exposing yourself. So, paradoxically, losing control often shows more strength than holding onto it.

Drug stores continue to sell cough syrups without prescriptions

Pharmacies flout govt directives proscribing sale of cough syrups to treat kids aged 0-2 yrs

ANUBHAB ROY @Bengaluru

DESPITE the state government's directive to not sell cough syrups to treat children aged 0-2 years, pharmacies across Bengaluru were found flouting the rules.

TNIE approached several pharmacies in the city, all of them in prominent or bustling areas, seeking cough syrup for an ailing two-year-old.

ONLY TWO OF THEM REFUSED

EXPRESS REALITY CHECK

According to the health advisory from Department of Health & Family Welfare Services (Government of Karnataka) issued on October 6, "Cough and cold syrups should not be prescribed or dispensed to children below 2 years of age. For children between 2 to 5 years of age, such medications should generally be avoided, unless clearly indicated and prescribed after proper clinical evaluation."

Little heed has been paid to statute number 7 of the advisory, which warns, "Random inspections may be conducted to ensure compliance with the above instructions."

TNIE's reality check was limited to areas with high footfall. Several pharmacies were asked to provide the same thing: a bottle of cough syrup for a two-year-old child having dry cough for a couple of days.

When TNIE approached a medical store on Old Airport Road, the manager produced an "ayurvedic" cough syrup. "Besides the kid, you can take it too," he said.

Another pharmacy some distance away offered a bottle of cough syrup, a clearly allopathic concoction, proving that the distinction between ayurveda and allopathy stands moot when it comes to peddling them without prescription.

A drug store on 80 Feet Road (near Sony World Signal), similarly, provided cough syrup without hesitation. The case with another shop in Ulsoor was same.

A pharmacist on St. John's Road offered a dosage involving three syrups taken in conjunction. This is in direct violation of statute number 3 of the advisory, which states: "Also, multi-drug combinations (irrational combinations, oral bronchodilators, cough suppressants) should be avoided." All of these three syrups, and the other syrups offered by the aforementioned pharmacies, bore the telltale warning in a red label classifying them as Schedule H drugs not to be sold without a prescription.

However, two pharmacies which refused to sell cough syrups upon knowing the age of the hypothetical patient were interestingly outlets part of popular healthcare franchises. The manager of one of these outlets in Vannarpet Layout showed commendable awareness. "If the child is sick, take him to a doctor instead of buying a bottle of cough syrup. If you read the papers, you'll see how dangerous cough syrups are for children," he said.

Apart from these, three pharmacies were visited without revealing the age of the hypothetical patient. All three offered Schedule H cough syrups without asking for any prescription.

Ramya case: CCB submits chargesheet

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

SLEUTHS of the Central Crime Branch (CCB) probing former MP and actress Ramya's complaint of receiving threat and lewd messages by disgruntled fans of actor Darshan Thoogudeepa, have submitted a 380-page chargesheet to a city court against 12 accused.

Screenshots of such messages have been included in the chargesheet. It also contains confessional statements of the accused, who have been arrested.

A search is on for six more accused. An additional chargesheet will be filed after their arrest. Obanna, Gangadhar, Rajesh, Bhuvan Gowda, Manjunath, Pramod Gowda and Santosh are among those arrested. However, it is not clear whether all the accused are fans of Darshan.

Ramya became a victim of cyber bullying after she shared an article on the Supreme Court proceedings in the Renukaswamy murder case in which Darshan is accused No 2.

Sharing the article, Ramya stated that Renukaswamy's family must get justice. Displeased by her Instagram and X posts, miscreants sent lewd messages to her. They also sent messages threatening her with dire consequences. Ramya filed her complaint with City Police Commissioner Seemant Kumar Singh on July 28.

Court orders probe into Darshan's facility denial claim

Bengaluru: The City Civil and Sessions Court on Friday directed the member secretary of the Bengaluru City Legal Services Authority to visit the Bengaluru Central Prison and verify the conditions in which actor Darshan, accused number two in the Renukaswamy murder case, is being lodged. The court issued the direction after Darshan's counsel filed a petition under Section 310 of the CrPC, seeking a judicial inspection to verify the facilities being provided to him. It also alleged that the prison had become a "hell" for Darshan and accused the authorities of failing to comply with an earlier court order that mandated the provision of basic amenities. The court ordered the Legal Services Authority official to ascertain whether the authorities have followed previous court directions. The inspection report must be submitted to the court by October 18. It may be recalled that Darshan, who was earlier lodged in the Parappana Agrahara prison, had received preferential treatment and was later shifted to the Ballari Central Jail. He was subsequently released on bail, but the Supreme Court later criticised the jail authorities and cancelled his bail.

CRC focuses on inclusion of transgenders

GAYATHRI M KURUP @ Bengaluru

THE Central Relief Committee (CRC), Government of Karnataka, held a meeting with transgender community representatives on Friday to discuss alternatives to begging and measures for social inclusion.

The session, chaired by newly appointed Chairman Aga Sultan, brought together senior CRC officials and community leaders, including activist Akkai Padmashali, founder of Ondede, and members of transgender coalition Okkoota.

Community members outlined key concerns, including the need for implementation of the Transgender Policy, 2017, access to skill development and vocational training, employment opportunities, social acceptance, protection from harassment and housing support. "Begging is often not a choice but a result of societal neglect," said Aga Sultan, stressing the committee's focus on providing alternative livelihood options and integrating transgender individuals into the social mainstream. Akkai Padmashali highlighted discrimination in employment and housing, saying, "Many of us are skilled and willing to work, yet societal bias leaves us with no choice but to beg."

She added, "We hope initiatives like this will create real alternatives and help transgender people regain dignity and independence." The meeting also addressed the role of the community in supporting city-wide initiatives such as reducing begging in public spaces. Officials said the CRC would liaise with government departments to implement skill training programmes, employment in CRC centres, and facilitate access to services for the community.

"Alternative options and opportunities should be provided, employment spaces should be occupied, and discontinued education should be pursued again," shared Rashika, a transwoman who lost her job due to her identity.

This was the first official meeting of its kind by the CRC, specifically focused on the transgender community, marking a step towards long-term socio-economic inclusion and empowerment.

CM dangles cabinet rejig to stay on, DCM banks on Bihar, Kerala elections

Shivakumar met Wayanad MP Priyanka last month to remind her of power-sharing pact

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah may try to reshuffle his cabinet anytime now to thwart Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar's attempts to stake claim to the chief minister's post, but the latter, who is also KPCC president, could have his own game plan up his sleeve and remind the party that he is key to its success in the coming Assembly elections in Bihar in November and Kerala in April.

Shivakumar is known to be a good organiser, especially during elections, and his full cooperation will be crucial for the party in the two Assembly polls. Then, there are elections to the five corporations in the Greater Bengaluru Authority and zill and taluk panchayats across the state, where too he will be the guiding force for the party.

Shivakumar has been reminding party national general secretary (organisation) KC Venugopal about the "secret" agreement arrived at soon after the party won the Assembly election in 2023, where Siddaramaiah is expected to rule the state for the first half of the five-year tenure of the party and rest by Shivakumar, party sources said. He met Wayanad MP Priyanka Gandhi Vadra a month ago as she was also reportedly party to the agreement that is at the centre of the power struggle between Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar, they added.

A few months ago, Siddaramaiah had taken some Congress leaders and legislators into confidence, playing on their desire to become ministers. The sources said these MLAs will want him to continue as CM if they are likely to get cabinet berths. Senior MLA from Bangarpet SN Narayanaswamy told reporters on Thursday that he is a strong contender for a ministerial post.

This has come as a setback for Shivakumar, but his camp is likely to make its voice heard after the Bihar polls. "Shivakumar could be given some key tasks during the Bihar polls and also Kerala elections. His contribution to the party is likely to pay off. It would make him stronger to stake a claim for the top post," said a Congress source.

Interestingly, former minister and Siddaramaiah's close associate KR Ramesh Kumar's son Harsha Kanadam has been appointed Congress war room chief in Kerala. He is being touted as Shivakumar's protege.

Siddaramaiah seems not done yet, as he has plans to reach many milestones, including breaking the record of former CM, the late Devaraj Urs as the longest-serving CM in January and is planning to present the budget in March/April. But Shivakumar is not likely to rest, and will continue to exert pressure on the high command.

Siddaramaiah a mass leader, no question of changing CM: Dinesh

MANGALURU: Health and Family Welfare Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao on Friday denied reports of a possible cabinet reshuffle. Rao said that Chief Minister Siddaramaiah has only invited them for a dinner meeting on Monday, and a decision on power sharing can only be decided by the Congress high command. "We do not have any information (on cabinet reshuffle). The CM has invited us all for a dinner meeting on Monday. A cabinet reshuffle can happen anytime. But we have not received any information. There are many issues that need to be discussed at the meeting," Rao said. On the power-sharing issue, the minister said that he cannot comment on statements made by a few Congress leaders. "When there is a sitting CM, there is no need to discuss changes in the post. Our high command and senior party leaders will decide on it. Siddaramaiah is a mass and a popular leader. There is no question of changing the CM," he said. ENS

CM's dinner not political, say ministers

ENS @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah inviting his cabinet colleagues for dinner on Monday continues to create a buzz. His close associate and Housing Minister Zameer Ahmed Khan, who is keen on a reshuffle, expressed the hope that the issue would come up for discussion. Zameer expects former minister B Nagendra to be reinducted into the cabinet.

"It is said there should be a reshuffle, but the matter is left to the party high command. I don't know when it will happen, whether in November or December. The CM has called a dinner meeting, let's wait and see what will be discussed," he told reporters.

Social Welfare Minister Dr HC Mahadevappa said the high command knows when to take a call, be it change of guard, cabinet reshuffle or inducting former minister KN Rajanna.

Home Minister G Parameshwara said evaluation of ministers is a continuous process and there is no need to link the cabinet reshuffle to the CM's dinner.

Labour Minister Santosh Lad in Udupi said that a banquet is called by the Chief Minister every year. "This is nothing new. It was called last time as well. The CM speaks personally. Cabinet expansion or reshuffling is a normal phenomenon. The CM, DCM, and the high command will decide when it should happen," Lad said.

MY TAKE

Is it power over — or of — enforcement while dealing with green norms?

NIRAD MUDUR
Deputy Resident Editor, Karnataka
niradgmudur@newindianexpress.com

DOES law and enforcement have any meaning in our country? This question has cropped up over the last few days after Karnataka State Pollution Control Board (KSPCB) sealed the studios where Bigg Boss Kannada was being filmed for violations of Water Act, but it was reopened a day later through political intervention.

After issuing three notices last year to Vels Studios and Entertainment Pvt Ltd (VSEPL), giving ample time to deal with its violations of water act and the waste management rules, the Karnataka State Pollution Control Board (KSPCB) on October 7 finally sealed VSEPL's Jollywood Studio and Adventure in Bidadi Industrial Town, Bidadi Hobli, Ramanagara.

KSPCB issued a closure order dated October 6 to VSEPL for its non-compliance with provisions of the Water (Prevention & Control of Pollution) Act, 1974. The board exercised its powers conferred under Section 33 of the act, read with Rule 34 of Karnataka State Board for the Prevention and Control of Water Pollution (Procedures for Transaction of Business) and the Water (Prevention & Control of pollution) Rules, 1976, to close down Jollywood Studio "forthwith and until further orders".

But just a day later, Deputy Chief Minister, DK Shivakumar, who is also President, Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) and Bengaluru Development Minister, ordered the premises to be opened, posting on 'X', "I have directed the Deputy Commissioner of Bengaluru South District to lift the seal on Jollywood premises in Bidadi, where Bigg Boss Kannada is being filmed. While environmental compliance remains a top priority, the studio will be given time to address violations in accordance with the norms set by the KSPCB. I remain committed to supporting the Kannada entertainment industry, while also upholding our responsibility toward environmental protection (sic)."

He also spoke to the media, saying, "I've told the DC to give them (Jolly Wood Studios) an opportunity... It is not a big factory, but a small unit. I have told them to abide by the KSPCB norms. There are many challenges...our industry needs to grow..." The premises have since been opened, and Big Boss Kannada resumed its filming there after bringing back all the participants who had been moved to a resort close by after KSPCB's closure order.

The popular reality show is not in the wrong as it is merely using the venue for its filming. But the closure disrupted the proceedings, with implications on advertising. Considering the quick resumption, Big Boss Kannada host and popular Kannada cine star Kiccha Sudeep, even thanked Shivakumar for his intervention that helped the show resume.

The DyCM may have meant well for the Kannada entertainment industry while ordering it reopened. But it sends a wrong message, while undermining the authority of the board. The KSPCB has regulatory powers to prevent and control air and water pollution, including setting environmental standards, monitoring industries, mandating permits like Consent for Establishment (CFE) and Consent for Operation (CFO), enforcing compliance through inspections and penalties, and managing waste like hazardous, biomedical, plastic, and e-waste. The KSPCB has the authority to inspect the violators' premises, issue environmental clearances to them, and act against them for violating the relevant acts, including the Water Act, Air Act, and Environment (Protection) Act.

Accordingly, the closure order was implemented as KSPCB inspections had found that VSEPL's Jollywood Studios was operating without the board's prior consent; discharging waste water outside the premises without treatment, polluting the surrounding environment; had not got their 250 KLD sewage treatment plant (STP) commissioned; and was disposing solid waste generated near the STP area without proper segregation.

KSPCB was well within its duty-bound rights to do what it did, but ended up being undermined and its authority compromised.

The fear lies in an example being set over letting one off the hook without following the due processes necessitated by the KSPCB. Won't this encourage others also to expect leniency and political intervention to get them off the hook? Will this not spur them on to duck laws and rules that are meant to guarantee a clean and healthy environment in the state? What then can be imagined to be the fate of the state when there is widespread discharge of untreated sewage, degradation of water bodies, contamination of groundwater, unregulated industrial discharge, and poor solid waste management, even as the regulatory board's authority is compromised?

That apart, this may well go down in the public mind as an example of enforcement being superseded by power despite the duty being discharged in accordance with the laws.

Lad seeks ₹1 fuel cess to fund healthcare of unorganised workers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Udupi

KARNATAKA Labout Minister Santosh Lad on Friday said that he will urge Chief Minster Siddaramaiah to levy a cess of Rs 1 per litre on petrol and diesel to create a dedicated fund for unorganised sector workers, primarily to cater to their healthcare needs.

Appealing to MLAs cutting across party lines to press for this, Lad said the proposal could yield about Rs 2,500 crore annually for the Labour Department.

"This will help us issue a health card that covers hospital bills up to Rs 15 lakh for 1.3 crore workers and their families," Lad said. He called the scheme a first-of-its-kind effort in the country for workers outside the organised sector, and said past governments had not addressed their health security. If approved, the health card could be rolled out in three to four months, he added. Lad said compensation norms for accidental deaths of unorganised workers need urgent revision, noting that the current Rs 1 lakh relief is "meagre".

On the welfare of gig workers, Lad said the state has passed the Karnataka Platform-based Gig Workers (Social Security and Welfare) Bill and is now framing rules. Once notified, a 1-2% platform-transaction fee will be collected to fund benefits for gig workers, he said. He also added that the Karnataka Cine and Cultural Activists (Welfare) Act, 2024, was passed to extend welfare coverage to makeup artists, stunt performers, daily-wage earners, spot boys, and others.

'Menstrual leave move earns praise from all'

Defending the Karnataka government's decision to grant 12 days of paid menstrual leave annually to women employees, Labour Minister Santosh Lad said that it was a unanimously-backed decision shaped by statewide consultations. Lad was in Udupi to distribute smart cards to registered unorganised workers.Speaking to reporters, he credited activist Ranjita Priyadarshini from Odisha for first proposing the measure last year. "She contacted me and proposed this idea last year. Many women are suffering due to menstrual issues. We had formed a committee to look into this," Lad said. The minister said the Congress government affirms ideals of Buddha, Basavanna and Dr BR Ambedkar, and the paid menstrual leave decision has drawn public praise, he said.

Demand for internal quota among STs

BENGALURU: Leaders from Scheduled Tribes (ST) have urged the State Government to take steps to provide internal reservation among STs, as was done in the case of Scheduled Castes (SC). ST leaders from 12 districts, including some legislators, who held a meeting in Bengaluru on Thursday, said the Supreme Court's verdict on internal reservation on August 1, 2024, stated that there should be classification of STs along with SCs, but the Karnataka government started the process of implementing internal reservation only for SCs. The leaders later met Social Welfare Minister Dr HC Mahadevappa, Law Minister HK Patil and Chief Secretary Shalini Rajneesh and submitted a report. The leaders felt that there is a problem in implementing the reservation in STs, as small tribes to some powerful communities are put in the same category, and due to that, many of them are left out of the reservation system. ENS

SHIVAMOGGA: Convenor of Rashtra Bhaktara Balaga KS Eshwarappa has said that if CM Siddaramaiah is really concerned about the Kuruba community, he has to put in efforts to include the community in the ST list. The former DCM said that the issue of including Kurubas in ST list has been in discussion again these days. Recently, even the CM had said that the movement to include Kurubas in the ST list was taken up by Eshwarappa when the BJP was in power. As a result of the movement, the Bommai government sent recommendations to the Centre, Eshwarappa added.If the CM is really concerned, he should lead the movement to include Kurubas in the ST list, he said. The main aim of the movement is not to snatch the reservation of other communities, but instead to extend it to 20% and give reservation to Kurubas and other backward classes, Eshwarappa said. ENS

Oppn accuses Cong of raising funds from state netas for Bihar polls

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AFTER the Directorate of Enforcement (ED) seized 40 kg of gold worth over Rs 50 crore from Congress MLA KC Veerendra in an illegal online betting case, JDS and BJP said the Congress leadership was putting pressure on the party leaders to raise money for Bihar polls.

LoP in Council Chalavadi Narayanaswamy said he had received information that Veerendra had agreed to give Rs 300 crore to the Congress leadership ahead of the Bihar elections after the party agreed to make him a minister.

He said the ED has seized properties worth around Rs 400 crore during the raids. Not just Veerendra, hundreds of families in the Congress have indulged in corruption, he said.

LoP in Assembly R Ashoka said if the MLA was trying to become a minister by agreeing to give Rs 300 crore to the party for the Bihar elections, one can imagine to what extent the Chief Minister and the Deputy Chief Ministers can go to save their posts. They make money by illegal means like gambling and betting and use it to win elections and to become ministers, he said, and added that for Telangana elections and the Lok Sabha elections, thousands of crores, including funds from the Valmiki Corporation, were siphoned off and now, who knows how much of Kannadigas' tax money will be looted for the Bihar elections? Ashoka said the Congress leader Rahul Gandhi, who uses such tainted money for elections, has no moral authority to talk about the electoral process.

35K kids out of school in GBA limits

Authority claims numbers are exaggerated, they would be cross-verifying it

AKNISREE KARTHIK @ Bengaluru

WHILE there are around 35,000 out-of-school children in Greater Bengaluru Authority (GBA) limits, the authority claimed the numbers are exaggerated, they would be cross-verifying it.

As per the survey conducted by the Centre for e-Governance, Karnataka H2H Children Survey, 35,000 children are not going to school in Bengaluru. The door-to-door survey is intended to identify children who are out of school and those who have failed to enrol, and bring them to school as mandated under Article 21A of the Constitution, which guarantees free and compulsory education for children between 6 and 14 years.A top GBA official said, "The survey started around five months ago to identify out-of-school children in Bengaluru, under GBA limits. According to the survey, 35,000 children are out of school. We feel the number is exaggerated and are cross-checking."

The official said the survey commenced in February and continued during the summer vacation, when children are at home, so the number could be on the higher side, and erroneous.

"We will cross-verify the numbers with SATS (Student Achievement Tracking System) ID, a unique 9-digit number assigned to students in government schools, and data from the state education department. We will also verify the numbers with the Kutumba database (a social registry of all households comprising citizen data). As per my estimation, dropouts in a city like Bengaluru, where we have enough government schools offering free education, would be around 3,000 only," he said. He went on to say that a ward-level task force, led by Group A and B officials, will be set up to re-enrol children who are out of school during this academic year only.

"All measures will be taken to put them back into the 117 BBMP schools and 500 government schools. If needed, they will be enrolled in aided and residential schools, with the help of the Child Welfare Committee. Often, the dropouts are poor, children of migrant workers, and physically challenged," he said.

Development Educationist Niranjanaradhya VP said 35,000 is not an exaggerated number, and if we take into account the en masse internal and external migration to Bengaluru city, the number is very small.He said the problem of children dropping out of schools is a much bigger issue. "This is a clear violation of Section 4 of the Right to Education (RTE) Act. It is a great concern for us that even after 15 years of the RTE Act, such a large number of children are out of school."

He suggested that the GBA immediately prepares a roadmap to bring back all children to mainstream schooling in consultation with the education department.

THE Karnataka High Court on Friday issued notices to the state government and the Archaeological Survey of India (ASI), Deputy Commissioner of Bengaluru South District, Magadi Town Municipality, on a public interest litigation filed seeking directions for preservation of Kempegowda Fort and Moat in Magadi, and removal of encroachment within the prohibited area of the fort.

A division bench of Chief Justice Vibhu Bakhru and Justice C M Poonacha passed the order after hearing the petition filed by Dr H M Krishnamurthy, founder and president of Sri Kempegowda Abhivruddhi Samithi, Magadi.

The petitioner said that the fort and moat are a protected monument under the Ancient and Historical Monuments and Archaeological Sites and Remains Act, 1961. There is total apathy and negligence on the part of ASI and other authorities, including the municipality and the deputy commissioner, he claimed.

The petitioner stated that the fort located in Magadi taluk, at a distance of 45 km from Bengaluru city junction, is a historical monument that dates back to the 17th century. The fort offers a stunning view of the surrounding landscape and is a popular destination for history enthusiasts and tourists. Unfortunately, a large portion of the fort lies in ruins today, with only parts of it having survived.

BJP leaders stage protest against Quran recitation at government event in Hubball

Hubballi: BJP leaders on Friday staged a protest in front of the Deputy Commissioner's office in Hubballi, condemning the recitation of the Quran during a recent government programme in the city. The protest was marked by Hindu religious rituals, including Homa and Havana. Opposition Deputy Speaker Arvind Bellad accused the state government of encouraging such practices and warned that people would "teach it a lesson" in the days to come. Another BJP leader, Mohan Ramdurga, said the event was held near the Siddaroodha Math premises and questioned whether permission would be granted to perform religious rituals of other faiths in their respective holy places. ENS

'MY VOTE, MY RIGHT' DRIVE

CIVIL SOCIETY TO OPPOSE SIR IN KARNATAKA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

APPREHENSIVE about mass exclusion of names from the voters' list, political leaders and civil society organisations have decided to oppose the Special Intensive Revision (SIR) in Karnataka through a statewide campaign, 'My Vote, My Right'. This is similar to the way they opposed implementation of the National Register of Citizens (NRC) and Citizenship Amendment Act (CAA). They have also decided to approach Congress leaders in the state, urging them to pass a unanimous resolution against SIR.

This decision was taken at a Round Table meeting organised here on Friday. Opposing the SIR and what happened in Bihar, Clifton D'Rozario, state secretary of the CPI(ML) Liberation, said, "The mass exclusion of voters' names in Bihar has resulted in the deletion of 68 lakh voters from the electoral rolls. This mainly includes women, Dalits, Muslims, especially migrant workers. In Bihar, the ECI refused to accept that most of the poor, illiterate, women, Scheduled Castes and Other Backward Classes do not possess documents, including birth certificates, passports, matriculation certificates or caste certificates."

He added, "We fear that the same will repeat in Karnataka if the government allows SIR. There is no provision in the Constitution for ECI to determine the citizenship of citizens. In simple words, BJP is implementing NRC and CAA through SIR."

Vinay Sreenivasa, a member of Bahutva Karnataka, explained, "Clause 5(b) of the booklet on SIR of Electoral Rolls in Karnataka 2025, issued by the office of the Chief Electoral Officer, Karnataka, states that the ERO will refer cases of suspected foreign nationals to the competent authority under the Citizenship Act, 1955. For these purposes, the AERO shall exercise ERO's powers independently u/s 130(2) of the RPA, 1950. With such unbridled powers, and constant false claims of marginalised communities being foreign nationals, the SIR could become a mass exercise that affects not just voting rights but also citizenship of migrant workers, Adivasis, Dalits and Muslims."

Besides organising a statewide campaign, the organisations have also arrived at a resolution to urge ECI to share the voters' list with the public in a digital machine-readable format.

Kathyayini Chamraj, Executive Trustee at CIVIC, also advised amendments to Rule 12, making Form 6 applicable only for 'new voters' or 'first-time voters'. She said. "This rule only appears to have the questionable intent of saying: Once your name is deleted, it shall remain deleted forever, unless one is prepared to make a false declaration in Form 6 and make oneself liable for prosecution!"

Honour killing: HC confirms death to two

ENS @ Kalaburagi

THE Kalaburagi Bench of the Karnataka High Court has upheld the death sentence awarded to two convicts by the Third Additional District and Sessions Court, Vijayapura, in connection with the 2017 honour killing at Gundakanal village in Muddebihal taluk of Vijayapura.

The case pertains to the murder of Banu Begum Attar, a Muslim woman who had married Sayabanna Konnur, a man from a Scheduled Tribe, against her family's wishes. The couple, who had briefly lived in Goa, returned to their native in 2017. Enraged, Banu's brothers Ibrahim and Akbar allegedly set fire to Sayabanna's house. When the couple tried to escape, they attacked them. Banu fell while running, and Ibrahim poured kerosene on her as Akbar set her ablaze. She died along with the unborn child.

Around three lakh outsourced government personnel in Karnataka are set to receive their salaries through separate societies. Announcing this on Friday, Labour Minister Santhosh S Lad said this will liberate them from undue harassment by agencies

No Aadhaar, ration cards, migrants stay in margins

Mysuru's migrant families left shaken following rape, murder of 8-year-old

KARTHIK K K @ Mysuru

THE rape and murder of an eight-year-old migrant girl in Mysuru has shaken the city. But every day is a struggle for these people from Kalyan Karnataka. For years, over 50 families from Kalaburagi have made Mysuru their temporary home during Dasara. They arrive with their children, colourful balloons and toys, selling them on streets.

Most of these families possess no documentation issued by the state -- Aadhaar, ration cards, or birth certificates. And due to this, they cannot access government's welfare programmes. "We have been coming to Mysuru and selling balloons for 13 years," says Hosamani, who along with at least 20 to 30 other families come and camp in Mysuru during Dasara festivities.

"No one knows us, no one counts us. We stay near the survey office in Kalaburagi while a few others stay in tents in Afzalpur. Most of us don't have documents and when we tried for an Aadhaar we were asked to pay ₹3,000," he said.

"Even filing a complaint to register an FIR would be difficult as it is mandatory to provide proof of identification," said another member of the group, adding how it was difficult for the family members and relatives to provide documentation in connection with this case. Even schemes designed to help women, which the government boasts about, like the Shakti scheme for free bus travel, remain out of reach for them.

Residents, cops lend helping hand to minor victim's family

Mysuru: Brutal rape and murder of a eight-year-old migrant girl in the city has left a scar on Mysuru post the grand Dasara celebrations. On the flip side, it has also shown the compassion of its dwellers. At a time when the city is reeling from grief after the incident, the extreme poverty and even the struggle of the migrant family who lost her young girl even to give dignified final rites moved several citizens. The helplessness in the face of the grief moved the people of Mysuru, who rallied around the family to offer support. Local citizens and activists since late Thursday night stepped forward to contribute funds, ensuring that the child received a dignified farewell despite the family's dire circumstances. Like-minded people moved by the struggle of the family immediately arranged over ₹50,000 sourcing from their friends and transferred to the migrant family to meet the cremation expenses. Meanwhile, in an act of solidarity, Mysuru City Police contributed from their own pockets and arranged a private bus to transport the grieving family back to Kalaburagi for the cremation. "This was not just a duty as police officers, but an act of humanity," said Murugan, a Kananda activist who was with the migrant family helping them reach Kalaburagi. ENS

She pointed out that building a Viksit Bharat by 2047 requires the active participation of MSMEs and a collective effort to nurture a Swadeshi and Atmanirbhar (self-reliant) mindset. Highlighting efforts to improve market access, she said the government is promoting local markets and providing opportunities for entrepreneurs to reach both the Government e-Marketplace (GeM) and global buyers, thereby ensuring ease of doing business.

Stray mauls child's face in B'gavi, hosp turns her away

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Belagavi

A stray dog attacked a two-year-old girl, leaving her with severe facial injuries in Maruti Nagar in Belagavi on Thursday.

The victim, Aaradhya Umesh Targar (one year and ten months old), was playing outside her house when the stray dog lunged at her. The animal bit her on the forehead, cheek, and lip, tearing her mouth up to the chin and causing profuse bleeding. Locals and the child's mother rushed to her aid, managing to drive the dog away. Aaradhya was first taken to the Belagavi District Hospital.

However, instead of providing immediate care, hospital staff reportedly advised the family to take her to KIMS Hospital in Hubballi, despite the recent inauguration of a super speciality facility within the district hospital premises. Locals expressed anger over the hospital's refusal to treat the injured child.

Following a referral letter from the District Hospital, the girl was finally admitted to a private hospital in Nehru Nagar. Doctors have advised plastic surgery for the extensive facial injuries, estimated to cost Rs 1.5 to Rs 2 lakh. The kin of her family is struggling to arrange the money.

Meanwhile, the stray dog responsible for the attack has been captured and placed under observation at the ABC Centre in Srinagar.

HC orders FIR over Sabari missing gold

Report says about 474.9 gm of gold handed over to priest Potty, but not returned to TBD

AGENCIES @ Kochi

THE Kerala High Court on Friday directed the state police to register a criminal case in connection with the "misappropriation of gold" from the "side frame or lintels" of Sabarimala shrine and launch an investigation.

A bench of Justices Raja Vijayaraghavan V and K V Jayakumar issued the direction after going through the investigation report placed before it by the Chief Vigilance and Security Officer (Superintendent of Police).

The bench said that the probe was initially commenced with respect to the gold-plating of the 'Dwarpalaka' (guardian deity) idols in Lord Ayyappa shrine at Sabarimala, but the facts in the report "disclose serious malpractice regarding the door frames as well".

"The report indicates that a substantial quantity of gold, approximately 474.9 grams, was handed over to the donor, Unnikrishnan Potty. The records do not disclose that this gold was ever re-entrusted to the Travancore Devaswom Board (TDB)," it said.

The court also noted that according to the report, various communications and TDB decisions of 2019 regarding handing over of the door frames for gold-plating, describes the items as 'copper plates' and not 'gold-covered copper plates'.

"This discrepancy is a matter of serious gravity, particularly since in our earlier order we had recorded that a total of 30.291 kg of gold was utilised in the year 1998-99.

"Prima facie, serious lapses and derelictions on the part of Board officials are apparent and this warrants a thorough investigation on all aspects and fronts," the bench said.

Munambam land not waqf property, rules Kerala HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kochi

Bringing relief to the residents of Munambam, the Kerala High Court has ruled that the land where around 600 families — primarily from fishing communities — reside is not waqf property.

A division bench held that the endowment deed executed in 1950 was a gift deed for the Farooq College management and not a 'waqf deed'. "The endowment deed of 1950 never intended to create any permanent dedication in favour of the Almighty God, but was a gift deed in favour of Farooq Management and therefore could have never qualified as a 'waqf deed' under any of the enactments of the Waqf Act 1954, 1984, or 1995," held the bench comprising Justice Sushrut Arvind Dharmadhikari and Justice Syam Kumar V M.

The court observed the Kerala Waqf Board's action of declaring/registering the property as waqf through its declarations and orders issued in September and October 2019 was bad in law on the grounds of being unreasonably delayed and having been issued in violation of the provisions of the Waqf Acts 1954, 1984, and 1995, and consequently non-enforceable. The bench issued the order while upholding the order of the state government appointing an inquiry commission headed by former High Court judge C N Ramachandran Nair on the Munambam land issue.

SC slams HC over SIT probe into Karur tragedy

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday questioned the Madras High Court for constituting a special investigation team (SIT) to probe into the Karur stampede in which 41 people were killed. The top court also asked how the postmortem examination of the victims were conducted at midnight and completed within four hours.

A bench of Justices JK Maheshwari and NV Anjaria, which was hearing petitions filed by the Tamilaga Vettri Kazhagam (TVK) and others seeking an independent investigation into the stampede, wondered why the Madras HC constituted an SIT when the prayer is for creating Standard Operating Procedure (SOP) for crowd control.

While the TVK has sought an investigation monitored by a retired Supreme Court judge instead of the SIT composed of only TN police officers, other petitioners wanted CBI investigation.

"We will pass appropriate orders. We will see what we can do," the bench said. When one of the petitioners contended that the government conducted postmortem of the bodies at midnight, and they were cremated at 4am in the morning, senior counsel P Wilson, appearing for Tamil Nadu, said that this is the first time such allegations have been made with respect to the postmortem and the state will file a detailed affidavit in this regard.

If not for us, we'd all be speaking Hindi: TN DCM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

DMK youth wing secretary and Deputy Chief Minister Udhayanidhi Stalin said that it was because of Tamil Nadu's struggle that Governor R N Ravi is now learning to speak Tamil, or else "all of us would have been speaking Hindi by now".

Udhayanidhi was responding to Ravi's remark in Tamil, "With whom is Tamil Nadu fighting now?" – a critique aimed at the DMK's campaign slogan "Tamil Nadu will fight, Tamil Nadu will win". He also said that "Ravi has started his election campaign, which will only favour the DMK".

"Tamil Nadu will fight for social justice and state rights, and it will fight against communalism, casteism, and Hindi imposition. In total, TN will fight against the fascist BJP," Udhayanidhi elaborated.

Speaking at the centenary celebration of V Anaimuthu, late leader of the Marxist-Periyarist Pothuvudaimai Katchi, Udhayanidhi also took a veiled dig at Vijay's TVK cadre, saying, "An ideology-less crow is emerging."

The event was held at RA Puram and was presided over by Periyarist writer Valasa Vallavan. DMK deputy general secretary A Raja and Minister S S Sivasankar, among others, took part.

"The old slaves are not enough for the BJP, hence they are looking for new ones. No matter how many slaves the BJP joins hands with, the 2026 Assembly elections will prove that Tamil Nadu is a land of self-respect," said Udhayanidhi.

"Since the BJP is unable to gain the people's support directly here, it is riding on the AIADMK's shoulders by intimidating them. We are also celebrating the centenary of the Self-Respect Movement, but (AIADMK general secretary) Edappadi K Palaniswami does not have an iota of self-respect," he said.

Cong MP Shafi Parambil injured as CPM, Congress workers clash in Perambra

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kozhikode

A violent clash broke out between CPM and Congress workers in Perambra on Friday. The police resorted to lathicharge and fired tear gas shells to control the situation. Vadakara MP Shafi Parambil sustained facial injuries amid police action that included the use of tear gas and baton charge to control the situation. He was later admitted to a private hospital in Kozhikode for treatment.

According to eyewitnesses, chaos unfolded when UDF and CPM supporters came face-to-face near Perambra town. The police intervened as heated arguments turned violent, resorting to lathicharge and tear gas firing to disperse the protesters. Several UDF activists also suffered injuries, sources said.

The violence is believed to have stemmed from ongoing tensions related to student union elections at Perambra CKG Memorial Government College. The unrest began on Wednesday after clashes between SFI and MSF activists over the UDF-backed UDSF's victory in the college union elections. The police had since declared a local hartal to restore order, but the situation remained volatile.

On Friday, both the UDF and CPM announced separate demonstrations in the town — the UDF in protest against police action and the CPM in retaliation for the alleged attack on Perambra panchayat president V K Pramod during Thursday's hartal. As the two groups' processions advanced toward each other, confrontations reignited, leading to stone pelting, chaos, and police action.

Meanwhile, the Perambra police stated that nearly ten police personnel were injured in the clash, but the UDF workers who were attacked denied the police's claims.

Traffic movement in Perambra came to a standstill, and local shops were forced to shut down as the clashes intensified. Police officials later confirmed that additional forces had been deployed to prevent further escalation and maintain law and order in the area.

District authorities have launched an inquiry into the incident and appealed for restraint from both political fronts. Meanwhile, leaders from both the UDF and CPM traded accusations, blaming the other for instigating the violence.

Madras HC bars animal sacrifice at Thiruparankundram hills

JEGADEESWARI PANDIAN @Madurai

The Madurai Bench of the Madras High Court on Friday ruled that any animal sacrifice, cooking, carrying or serving of any non-vegetarian food cannot be permitted on Thiruparankundram hill in Madurai, until a decision is rendered by a competent civil court regarding the customary practice of animal sacrifice on the hill. There is also a statutory bar against the practice on the hill as it is in violation of Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Sites and Remains Rules, 1959, the court added.

The court, however, permitted conduct of prayers and gatherings at the Sikandar Badusha Avuliya Dargah situated at the Nellithoppu area of Thiruparankundram hill during Bakrid and Ramzan alone, on condition that it does not affect the traditional footsteps which belong to the Subramaniya Swamy temple.

The order was passed by Justice R Vijayakumar, who was appointed as the third judge to provide clarification on the issue of permitting animal sacrifices, prayers and gatherings at the Sikandar Badusha Avuliya Dargah situated at the Nellithoppu area on Thiruparankundram hill, after a division bench of Justices J Nisha Banu and S Srimathy took divergent views on a batch of petitions filed in connection with the issue. However, as far as the matter of conducting prayers at the dargah is concerned, the judge concurred with the decision of Justice Banu and said prayers and gatherings could be permitted during Bakrid and Ramzan based on the agreements made during a peace committee meeting held in 2023.

Though the Mohammedans have been granted declaration of title for the 33 cents in Nellithoppu area, the pathway belongs to the Subramaniya Swamy temple and the Muslims have only right of usage over it, he pointed out, adding that the same should not be disturbed during the gatherings.

INDIAN EXPRESS IS NOT AN INDUSTRY. IT IS A MISSION.

INVESTORS MUST STAY ON GUARD AMID IPO FRENZY

AFTER a slow start, India's initial public offering (IPO) market is racing towards a tipping point in 2025, with fundraising volumes and listing activity accelerating to record levels. Per estimates, India is witnessing the fourth largest fund raising globally at $14.2 billion, only next to the US, Hong Kong and China. Some 79 companies raked in $11.5 billion in the first nine months of 2025, while the pipeline of offerings is expected to add another $10-11 billion, capping the IPO market above $20 billion in 2025, according to Kotak Mahindra Capital. The frenzy is similar to the landmark years of 2024 and 2021, when 91 and 63 IPOs raised ₹1.6 lakh crore and ₹1.19 lakh crore, respectively. With total collections set to cross ₹1.3 lakh crore, 2025 may well be remembered as the second largest year in the Indian IPO history, surpassed only by 2024's haul.

Interestingly, the market is driven by active participation of domestic mutual funds, offsetting a wave of foreign institutional investor exits. The market is also seeing strong appetite from retail and high-networth individuals, who are participating in IPOs like never before. Sensing that the momentum is showing no signs of slowing down, the RBI has increased the IPO financing limit from ₹10 lakh to ₹25 lakh per individual investor. The raised limit, which was last revised in 1998, is expected to broaden retail participation, inject liquidity into the primary market, and deepen the capital markets. While higher financing limits indicate that banks and regulators are encouraging retail participation, investors must be watchful.

Even though the extra credit limit comes in handy, what's crucial is understanding stock fundamentals and timing. While retail investors are queuing up for new issues, FIIs are heading in the opposite direction, reflecting an overall reduction in portfolio funds to India. Moreover, even as the IPO frenzy is hitting records, India's benchmark indices are delivering lacklustre returns. For instance, the Nifty-50 has barely turned in 6 percent so far this year, while indices tracking small- and mid-sized firms are yielding negative returns. Above all, estimates also suggest that about half the IPOs this year are trading below their listing prices, while only 43 of the 79 companies have given positive returns. Investors must exercise caution.

AVOID ENGAGING TEACHERS ON EXTENDED GOVT TASKS

THE Karnataka government's Socio Economic and Educational survey in progress across the state has deprioritised education. With 1.2 lakh government schoolteachers out in the field as enumerators, government schools have been shut till October 18 and students are on an extended mid-year vacation. The survey, which began on September 22 and was to conclude on October 7, has remained incomplete, forcing the government to set a fresh deadline of October 20. It means children will return to classes post Diwali, after a month-long break. Only second-year pre-university teachers who are conducting exams are exempt from survey duty. The census aims to cover 7 crore people in over 2 crore households across Karnataka. Coverage ranges from 97 percent in some districts to just about 36 percent in Greater Bengaluru, which joined the survey only on October 4; 21,000 enumerators, including 6,700 teachers, are enlisted for the capital city.

Educationists are frowning at this ad hoc change in the academic year. They warn that crunching lessons and hurrying through special classes will affect learning. The onus remains on teachers to complete the syllabus and bring students up to speed. It is also widely accepted that academic performance in government schools is below the accepted standard; such a break will only worsen the situation. Deputy CM D K Shivakumar has assured parents that teachers will hold special classes to help students catch up.

The caste survey is not a special case. Government teachers are often roped in for surveys, election work, and training, keeping them busy through school holidays. Chief Minister Siddaramaiah has even threatened action against teachers who are reluctant to take up survey work. While the teachers are being paid ₹20,000 for this additional duty, the mindset that their main job is dispensable must change. Rushing through the syllabus after this hectic schedule is bound to stress the teachers and take a toll on students, too. The authorities should have foreseen the challenges, and though 40,000 government staffers are also on the job, it could have been timed so as not to disrupt the academic year. Finding alternatives to teachers for such tasks is imperative—unemployed graduates who have signed up for the Yuva Nidhi scheme or National Service Scheme volunteers could be considered. Disruption in studies will only harm the state's youth.

QUICK TAKE

NOISE THAT LIFTS

THOMAS Tuchel touched upon a football fundamental when the England coach complained after his team's 3-0 win against Wales at London's Wembley, "We didn't get any energy back from the stands." Across the world, crowd cheers and chants give players energy to do much more than they otherwise would. So much so that England's Premier League and South Korea's K League used fake crowd noise during the pandemic lockdown. This essential expression of fandom is muted in India—especially for sports not cricket. We are not talking about ear-piercing vuvuzelas, which gained notoriety during the 2010 World Cup in South Africa. It's about having a good old song-and-dance in the stadium. Now that's one thing no one would say Indians lack energy for.

The Cochin port, which was built despite severe odds, reflects the story of the state. Significant changes are brought about by determined individuals who stand their ground

THE KERALA STORY SEEN THROUGH COCHIN PORT

K M CHANDRASEKHAR
Former Cabinet Secretary and author of As Good as My Word: A Memoir

SOURAV ROY

COCHIN and its twin city, Ernakulam, have resurfaced many times in my life. When I was still in my teens, my parents and I would travel every year from Delhi to Trichur (now Thrissur). My mother's tharavadu house was located there, a palatial mansion close to the heart of the city with floors of Italian marble set amid acres of land.

On every trip, we had to make a mandatory visit to the Hill Palace at Thrippunithura not far from Ernakulam. My mother was distantly related to the Maharaja of Cochin, and it was obligatory to visit him and pay our respects. Parikshit Thamburan, as he was widely known, had no administrative responsibilities after India gained independence, but he was well regarded by the people for his great learning and simple ways.

My relationship with Cochin did not stop with that early association with the Hill Palace. Shortly after I was allocated to the Kerala cadre in the IAS, and after I had completed my first stint of two months in the Devicolam subdivision, I was appointed sub-collector of Fort Cochin in 1972.

I was newly married and it was a great experience staying in the old Dutch fort called Bastion Bungalow, located at the mouth of the harbour, watching large ships pass by blaring their horns. Bastion Bungalow is now a museum, meticulously curated by my friend V Venu, who was the chief secretary of Kerala not too long ago. We revisited it a couple of years ago, paying the modest entrance fee. Parts of the house retained their old shape, while the museum had expanded.

My relationship with the twin cities didn't end with my first assignment either. I returned for three years as managing director of Kerala State Civil Supplies Corporation, a tenure that was very successful for me. My next stint there, which lasted a full five years, was with the Union ministry of commerce, as chairman of the Spices Board.

All these memories came flooding back when I read Cochin: Fame and Fables by M K Das, editor of the Indian Express and, later, The New Indian Express in Cochin.

As Das writes, Cochin's growth really started with the expansion of the port, which happened after a tsunami in 1341 CE destroyed the ancient port of Muziris. The great Greco-Roman navigational text from the first century CE, Periplus of the Erythraean Sea, refers to the older port in the following words: "Muziris, of the [Pandyan] kingdom, abounds in ships sent there with cargoes from Arabia and by the Greeks; it is located on a river (the Periyar), distant from Tyndis by river and sea five hundred stadia, and up the river from the shore twenty stadia." The precise location of Muziris is now a matter of hot debate among historians of Kerala. In Kerala, archaeology moves at a snail's pace, and hence the debate may not reach a quick resolution.

Das's book covers many facets of this historic city, which, over time, attracted people from various parts of India and the world—not just to visit, but to strike roots and generate trade and prosperity. I am focusing on one particularly fascinating chapter: the growth of the port. It is fascinating because I see that its development faced the same challenges that still plague Kerala today: conflict, resistance, protests, and delays.

The first known mention regarding the possibility of a port came from one Captain Castor in the middle of the 19th century, when he noticed the Narakkal mudbank that protected a ship during a furious storm along the coast. The construction of the Suez Canal significantly reduced the cost of shipping from Europe to the East and made the Cochin port yet more attractive to traders.

The Cochin Chamber of Commerce, led by the indomitable J H Aspinwall, took up the port's cause. The inland backwaters could be used to shelter large ships that, at the time, unloaded their cargoes into lighters, which brought them to the mainland. I was reminded of container traffic into India, 70 percent of which used to pass through Colombo, Singapore, and the ports of West Asia, and is now being targeted for diversion to Vizhinjam near Trivandrum, which faced similar teething troubles as Cochin.

The lighters mounted a strong resistance and the British government in Madras hesitated. The situation began to change only when Robert Bristow arrived in Ernakulam on April 13, 1920. He recognised the merit in the proposal and went on to exemplify how work can get done in Kerala—how one determined individual, fighting all odds, can prevail. He battled against the shipping agents, particularly the lighter operators, dealers aiming to profit quickly by selling land to him, and the 'rich and powerful residents of Ernakulam' who opposed having a port nearby.

I was once again reminded of the fight against land acquisition for the Airport Authority of India in Trivandrum, which was argued on the grounds that 'airports benefit only the wealthy,' until the then chief minister put his foot down.

Three stages of the Cochin port were completed in eight years. Das quotes an elated Bristow: "What was considered impossible nearly seventy years ago has been accomplished. They trusted me, and I had not let them down; for eight years, we fought off every attempt to sidetrack Cochin and found a way through every engineering and other emergency." The fourth stage was even more complicated; even the Cochin Chamber of Commerce lost confidence. Nonetheless, Bristow stood firm. The final signature came from the Maharaja of Cochin.

Every achiever in Kerala has had to struggle. Verghese Kurien once told me that he would never have been able to build his vast network of milk cooperatives had he started in Kerala. Yet another Kurien, an IAS officer, battled his way through to make a magnificent, fully-solar-powered airport at Nedumbassery near Ernakulam. And now, Adani Ports, supported at all stages by the state government, has built a container port that could change the face of Kerala's economy.

In Kerala, determination is the name of the game.

SPATS BEYOND IGNOBLE NOBELS

MADHAVAN NARAYANAN
Senior journalist

REVERSE SWING

IS the Nobel Prize not so noble? The question pops up almost every year, as the awardees—often in the peace and literature categories—are criticised for being less deserving, or because they are seen to serve some political agenda of the West by design. Whatever the squabble, it is undeniable that like the Oscars, there is a special charm in the awards that take names to the stratosphere of global recognition.

The truth of the awards lies perhaps between the recognition of excellence and socially useful work on the one hand, and some debatable values in a world where the shadow of Western imperialism still looms.

But it takes a Donald Trump to make the Nobels rise skyhigh in the controversy stakes. In the US president we have the rare phenomenon of a public figure not-so-subtly lobbying about him deserving the award, utterly unmindful of the understated elegance of some of its winners—including Bob Dylan, who faced criticism for not deserving the literature prize and then coolly refused to show up for the award ceremony.

On current reckoning, the Nobel's monetary value is about 11 million Swedish Kronas, or a bit more than ₹10 crore. A nouveau-riche denizen of the National Capital Region may snigger about the award being worth less than the prize of a fancy apartment in Gurugram, where a penthouse sold for ₹190 crore last year. But it is what it is: something money can't buy, even if you are the man who owns Trump Towers.

"I'm not politicking for it," Trump said when a peace agreement was signed between Armenia and Azerbaijan. "I have a lot of people that are." He must have got lost somewhere in the yawning space between a peace broker and a real estate broker.

The awards season brings back memories of a pleasant summer afternoon at the Nobel Prize Museum in Stockholm, where I noted with awe the details of some of the most deserving winners and personal souvenirs bequeathed to the museum. I stepped out to find a military band playing ABBA hits. It couldn't get more Swedish.

Not all find the mostly Swedish award (the peace prize is given by Norway) ennobling. After all, Alfred Nobel instituted the awards in 1895 after inventing dynamite. Some explosive conversations are naturally in order.

Besides Dylan, controversial Nobel winners include chemistry laureate Fritz Haber, who invented chemical weapons used in the First World War, economist Milton Friedman for being in bed with Chile's military dictators, and former US secretary of state Henry Kissinger, who won the peace prize while the Vietnam War was raging. It's no surprise that a latter-day Republican who dodged the Vietnam draft has been coveting the honour amid allegations of being a war abettor.

Beyond the controversies, it is undeniable that the Nobel honours scientists who quietly usher in magnificent social revolutions and would be largely unsung in public were it not for the award. I must doff my hat to this year's winners, who include path-breakers in immunology in quantum computing, and numerous others who make Stockholm's Hall of Fame a genuine one.

EXPRESS

It's not just Nobels that attract scrutiny and squabbles. Former Kerala health minister K K Shailaja refused the Rockefeller-founded Ramon Magsaysay award after her CPI(M) colleagues pointed to the anti-communist history of the former Filipino president after whom the award is named

The $50,000 (₹44 lakh) Ramon Magsaysay award, named after a late Philippine president, and sometimes called 'Asia's Nobel' is far more controversial than the Swedish one because it is said to serve US geopolitical interests. Winners of the award set up by a fund founded by the American Rockefeller family include journalist Ravish Kumar and musician T M Krishna, considered anti-establishment by conservative critics. Notably, communist K K Shailaja, Kerala's former health minister lauded for her work during the pandemic, declined the award after consulting her CPI(M) colleagues, who did not like Magsaysay's anti-communist history. Last year, Sandeep Pandey returned the award he received in 2002 to protest against American support for Israel in the Gaza conflict.

A far less controversial honour, the Right Livelihood Award, sometimes called an alternative to the Nobel, offers roughly €50,000-100,000 (₹0.5-1 crore) each to three winners every year for their work related to health, education, sustainable development, and human rights; another awardee gets an honorary prize without the money. Instituted in 1980 by German-Swedish philanthropist Jakob von Uexkull, the honour's Indian winners include social reformer Asghar Ali Engineer and environmentalist Vandana Shiva.

That brings me to the dubious-yet-honourable Ig Nobel awards, a satirical take on the original that carries no monetary compensation, but is given to research that makes people laugh. The list is long, amusing and annoying in equal parts. It includes someone who analysed bacteria found in chewing gum stuck to sidewalks, two psychologists who concluded that people who believe they were kidnapped by aliens probably were, and a mathematician who calculated the precise odds that Mikhail Gorbachev is the Antichrist.

Too many West-decided prizes? It's time newly-minted billionaires from emerging economies like India stepped up with a reverse swing and set up prizes that might well shift the world's focus elsewhere. Of what good is a touted 'Asian century' when its coveted honours are still rooted in the Occident? Deserving awards must defy geographical constraints.

In strong signal to Pak, Afghan minister says India ties vital

Muttaqi's maiden visit to India marked by restoration of full diplomatic ties with Afghanistan

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

IN a visit loaded with pointed regional messaging, Afghanistan's Foreign Minister Amir Khan Muttaqi issued a warning to Pakistan during his first official trip to India, even as he signalled Kabul's readiness to strengthen diplomatic and development ties with New Delhi. Speaking in New Delhi on Friday, Muttaqi urged Islamabad to "stop playing games" with Afghanistan amid renewed cross-border tensions. "Pakistan should stop playing games with Afghanistan. Don't provoke Afghanistan too much—if you do, ask the British once; if you ask the Americans, they'll probably explain that playing such games with Afghanistan is not good. We want a diplomatic path," he said during a media briefing.

The comments come amid escalating hostilities between Afghanistan and Pakistan, including recent Pakistani airstrikes on Afghan territory. On Thursday, an explosion was reported in Kabul's Abdul Haq Square. While Taliban spokesperson Zabihullah Mujahid initially described it as an accident, Afghanistan's Defence Ministry later blamed Pakistan for the strike, along with another in Paktika province, accusing Islamabad of violating Afghan airspace.

Muttaqi did not hold back. "The courage of Afghans should not be tested. If someone wants to do this, they should ask the Soviet Union, America and NATO. It is not good to play games with Afghanistan," he warned. Reiterating Kabul's position, he said, "Problems cannot be solved like this. We have kept the door to discussion open. But Afghanistan has peace and progress after 40 years, and we will not allow anyone to derail that."

His remarks reflected the deepening mistrust between Kabul and Islamabad, with the Durand Line once again emerging as a flashpoint. Muttaqi also pushed back against external criticism of Taliban governance, saying, "We are an independent nation. Why are people troubled if we have peace? We want better relations with India and Pakistan, but it cannot be one-sided." Muttaqi's message to India was strikingly cooperative. Following talks with External Affairs Minister S. Jaishankar, he announced that Afghanistan would soon send new diplomats to India.

"Your concerns are important to us. Afghan soil will not be allowed to be used in any way against India's interests," Muttaqi said. India has refrained from recognising the Taliban government, maintaining that any future engagement hinges on the formation of an inclusive political setup in Kabul. Still, the optics of the visit suggested cautious re-engagement.

Row as women journos barred from presser

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

WOMEN journalists were notably absent from a press conference addressed by Taliban foreign minister Amir Khan Muttaqi at the Afghan embassy in New Delhi on Friday, in a move that drew quiet discomfort from various quarters.

According sources, the final decision to exclude women reporters was taken by Taliban officials accompanying Muttaqi, despite Indian authorities indicating that participation should be broad-based and include women journalists.

"We didn't expect anything different as the meet was organised by the Taliban officials," said a source. The exclusion has sparked criticism and renewed concerns over the Taliban's treatment of women. There was no immediate response from the Afghan embassy or the Taliban delegation on the decision.

Gor to talk ties with Indian officials during his Delhi visit till October 14

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

US Ambassador-designate to India Sergio Gor arrived in New Delhi on Friday for a six-day visit, soon after his confirmation by the US Senate—a signal seen as both sides are looking to accelerate diplomatic engagement, defuse trade tensions, and potentially lay the groundwork for a meeting between PM Narendra Modi and US President Donald Trump.

Gor, a close confidant of President Donald Trump and a former White House Personnel Director, is accompanied by Michael J. Rigas, Deputy Secretary for Management and Resources at the US State Department. The visit till October 14 comes at a delicate moment in India-US relations, which have seen frictions over trade barriers, tariffs, and divergent energy policies.

Although Gor will not present his credentials or formally assume charge during this visit, his early presence in Delhi reflects a strategic push by Washington to move past recent irritants and reaffirm the broader strategic partnership. "The United States will continue to work with India to strengthen our strategic partnership and promote a safer, stronger, and more prosperous Indo-Pacific region," the US State Department said ahead of the visit. Trade has remained one of the thorniest issues in the relationship. The Trump administration's decision to impose steep tariffs, doubling duties on key Indian exports to up to 50%, which includes an additional 25% levy tied to India's continued purchase of Russian crude has drawn strong objections from New Delhi. India has labelled the actions "unfair, unjustified and unreasonable."

Still, recent phone calls between Modi and Trump have helped ease some of the frost, and both governments have resumed trade negotiations after a brief pause. Sources suggest that Gor's trip could help move discussions forward on a smaller, targeted trade deal, possibly to be announced ahead of a potential Modi-Trump meeting, depending on how talks progress. Gor's appointment itself is seen as a message of continuity and loyalty, with the envoy-designate being a Trump insider with deep links to the administration's political and strategic core. Upon his Senate confirmation, Gor said he was "beyond grateful" to the President for the trust placed in him.

During the visit, Gor and Rigas are expected to meet senior Indian government officials across ministries, including external affairs, commerce, and defence. Gor is also expected to meet External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar. While no major announcement is expected this week, both sides are aiming to realign their priorities ahead of possible high-level engagements in the coming months. The Indo-Pacific, energy security, defence ties, and regional stability remain shared strategic concerns. Gor's dual role as Special Envoy for South and Central Asia further underscores Washington's desire to consolidate its regional strategy with India as a pivotal partner. For now, Gor's visit marks the beginning of what both capitals hope will be a reset balancing economic friction with long-term strategic alignment in an increasingly turbulent geopolitical landscape.

Kharge launches offensive on BJP's 'feudal mindset' over SC/ST atrocities

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

STEPPING up attacks on the BJP government over the alleged rise in attacks on SC/STs, Adivasis, backward classes and minorities, the Congress on Friday asserted that it is a dangerous manifestation of the RSS–BJP's feudal mindset.

In a post on X, Congress chief Mallikarjun Kharge pointed out that between 2013 and 2023, there has been a 46% increase in crimes against SC/STs, according to the NCRB report. The crimes against Adivasis have increased by 91 percent, he said. Kharge further cited recent incidents of caste-based discrimination and violence, including, the lynching of SC/ST man Hariom Valmiki in Rae Bareli district of Uttar Pradesh, the attack on Chief Justice of India BR Gavai and the recent suicide of an SC/ST IPS officer from Haryana.

"Caste discrimination against an IPS officer in Haryana, the harassment of Hariom Valmiki, the attack on the CJI and the BJP mindset justifying it, and the atrocities against elderly SC/ST woman Kamla Devi Raigar in Sawai Madhopur district of BJP-ruled Rajasthan. All these recent incidents are not just isolated events, but a dangerous manifestation of the RSS–BJP's feudal mindset," he wrote. Kharge said that the chain of events is a direct assault on the fundamental principles of India's Constitution, social justice, and equality.

"This politics of intimidating and suppressing SC/STs, backward classes, Adivasis, and marginalised communities poses a serious threat to democracy," he said. Taking aim at the Modi government, he said that SC/STs, Adivasis, backward classes, minorities, and weaker sections are bearing the brunt of it "And you are keeping your eyes shut to these issues while remaining engrossed in your own spectacles," he added. India will be governed by the Constitution, not by the decrees of any extremist ideology," he warned the government.

Earlier on Thursday, Kharge alleged that the suicide of a SC/ST IPS officer in Haryana was a "horrific testament to the social injustice, inhumanity, and insensitivity" under the ruling BJP's "Manuwadi" system.

Inclusion of infiltrators in rolls against Constitution, says Shah

MUKESH RANJAN @ New Delhi

IN a first government reaction over the special intensive revision (SIR) of electoral rolls conducted by the Election Commission of India (ECI) in poll-bound Bihar, Union Home Minister Amit Shah on Friday said that the poll body is duty-bound to conduct such an exercise.

Addressing an event organised here by a media house, the Home Minister said, the inclusion of infiltrators in the voters' list pollutes the spirit of the Constitution and asserted that voting rights should only be available to the citizens of the country, as per the Constitutional scheme.

Shah asserted that the government at the Centre led by Prime Minister Narendra Modi always followed the policy of 3-D- "detect, delete and deport" while dealing with infiltrators. He also asked that all well-meaning citizens of the country should not look at infiltration and the SIR from the political prism, while asserting that these are issues directly connected with national security.

Noting that the Congress has gone into a "denial mode" on the issue of the SIR, Shah said that the exercise took place even during the period in which it was in power. "The Opposition is blocking the exercise because their vote banks are getting affected... It is the EC's constitutional responsibility to clean the voters' list. You can go to court if you have any issues," he said.

The Opposition is blocking the SIR because their vote banks are getting affected... It is the EC's constitutional responsibility to clean the voters' list. You can go to court if you have any issues

Amit Shah, Union Home Minister

Free and fair elections cannot take place unless the voter list is according to the voters' definition, which is being an Indian citizen and attaining the eligible age of 18 years, he said, adding that non-citizens can not be allowed to choose the country's leadership.

Underlining the difference between an infiltrator and a refugee, Shah said the latter comes to India to save his/her religion, while an infiltrator crosses over the border illegally, not because of religious persecution but because of economic and other reasons.

"Who are infiltrators? Those who have not faced religious persecution and want to come to India illegally for economic or other reasons are infiltrators. If anyone in the world who wants to come here is allowed to do so, our country will become a dharamshala," Shah said.

Criticising the events that led to the partition of the country in 1947, the Home Minister said, "Dividing the country on the basis of religion was a grave mistake, as this cut the arms of Bharat Mata."

BJP steps up attack on Didi over SIR remarks, accuses her of 'inciting riots' in state

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

A day after West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee made a strong remark against the proposed Special Intensive Revision (SIR) of the electoral rolls, the BJP on Friday accused the CM of threatening that the state would face "riots and violence" if the Election Commission (EC) proceeds with the exercise.

The EC is learnt to have decided in principle to conduct the SIR in West Bengal and other states scheduled to go to assembly polls next year. Banerjee has alleged that her officials were being threatened even before announcement of assembly poll dates.

Banerjee accused the BJP of "playing with fire" in the name of SIR. She also warned that any attempt to tamper with the voter list would amount to a "betrayal of democracy".

Hitting back, BJP national spokesperson Sambit Patra said Banerjee's comments on the SIR were shocking. "She said if SIR is conducted, there will be riots and other consequences in Bengal which will be horrifying. This means Mamata ji is threatening that if a constitutional process starts in Bengal, she will engineer riots and terrible consequences," the BJP MP said.

Patra described Banerjee's remarks as "irresponsible" and questioned whether she considered herself above the Constitution and entitled to take the law into her own hands to "secure votes from illegal Bangladeshi and Rohingya infiltrators" who are not entitled to vote in India. "Mamata Banerjee, it's your arrogance that you consider yourself above the Constitution and the country's judicial system. Remember, you cannot be bigger than the Baba Saheb Ambedkar's Constitution, no matter how many times you have served as a CM," he said. Patra alleged that Banerjee has instigated unrest in West Bengal through recent attacks on BJP leaders, including party's tribal MP Khagen Murmu.

Centre nod to Sawalkot Hydropower project

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

AMID the suspension of the Indus Waters Treaty (IWT), the Ministry of Environment, Forest and Climate Change (MoEFCC) has recommended clearance for the Sawalkot hydropower project on the Chenab River in the Indus basin over which Pakistan claimed full rights under the treaty.

The Expert Appraisal Committee (EAC) of the MoEFCC evaluated the proposal on September 26 and noted that the 1,856-MW project, to be built at ₹31,380 crore, spans 1,401.35 hectares, which includes 847.17 hectares of forest land and 554.18 hectares of non-forest land. The project had previously received Stage-I forest clearance on July 10 this year.

The Sawalkot project consists of six units of 225 MW and one unit of 56 MW for Stage 1 (totalling 1,406 MW) and two additional units of 225 MW for Stage 2 (totalling 450 MW). It is a run-of-the-river project that will utilise water from the Chenab located in Ramban, Reasi, and Udhampur districts of Jammu and Kashmir.

India suspended the IWT following a terrorist attack in Pahalgam in April that resulted in the death of 26 people. The treaty governs water-sharing in the Indus basin, with Pakistan controlling the western rivers—Jhelum, Chenab, and Indus— while India has full control over the Sutlej, Beas, and Ravi rivers.

However, under the treaty, India is permitted to use the water from the western rivers for non-consumptive purposes —up to 3.6 million acre-feet— such as irrigation, navigation, and hydropower generation, without altering the river's course. With the IWT's suspension, India can now freely design and construct structures, such as storage dams, on the western rivers and their tributaries. Of the 847.17 hectares of forest area required for the Sawalkot project, 684.15 hectares are designated as reserve forest and 162.02 hectares as revenue forest, both included in the forest diversion proposal for the project.

The major forest divisions impacted by the project are Ramban, Batote, Udhampur, and Mahore, while the revenue forest affected is located in Ramban and Batote divisions.

Run-of-the-river project to use Chenab water

The Sawalkot project consists of six units of 225 MW and one unit of 56 MW for Stage 1 (totalling 1,406 MW) and two additional units of 225 MW for Stage 2 (totalling 450 MW). It is a run-of-the-river project that will utilise water from the Chenab located in Ramban, Reasi, and Udhampur districts of Jammu and Kashmir.

The project will create a submergence area of 1,159.73 hectares. The EAC has recommended that an independent agency conduct an environmental impact assessment five years after the project's commissioning. The budget allocated for environmental management and pollution control measures is ₹594 crore.

According to minutes of the meeting, the project components do not impact any notified protected areas (PAs). The public hearing for the project was conducted by the J&K State Pollution Control Board in 2016, and there are currently no pending court litigations.

Govt gets 4 more wks to reply on pleas seeking restoration of statehood in J&K

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday granted an additional four weeks to the Union government to file its detailed response on a batch of pleas seeking directions to the Centre to restore the statehood of the UT of Jammu and Kashmir.

During the hearing, Solicitor General Tushar Mehta, appearing for the Centre, requested the top court for more time to file the reply in the case. A bench of Chief Justice of India BR Gavai and Justice K Vinod Chandran granted four weeks.

The top court was hearing the plea filed by two residents of J&K and college teachers -- Zahoor Ahmad Bhat, an academician, and Khurshaid Ahmad Malik, an activist—seeking directions to the Centre to restore the statehood of the UT of Jammu and Kashmir.

The petitioners submitted that the failure to restore the statehood was gravely affecting the rights of the citizens. Earlier, at one of the hearings, SG Mehta contended that Jammu and Kashmir's status as a UT is temporary and that statehood will be restored to the region, except for the UT of Ladakh.

On August 14, the court had sought the Centre's response within eight weeks on a separate plea seeking restoration of statehood to the UT. Seeking immediate direction for restoration, the petitioners added that the delay was also violative of the basic structure of federalism. They said it is for that reason that they seek directions to the Centre to restore the statehood in a time-bound manner within two months.

SC rules out CBI probe into cough syrup deaths

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday rejected a public interest litigation (PIL) seeking a CBI probe into the deaths of children in Madhya Pradesh and Rajasthan after consuming allegedly toxic cough syrup.

The bench headed by SC Chief Justice BR Gavai observed, "We are not inclined to hear the matter."

Advocate Vishal Tiwari, who filed the PIL, said only a single agency like the CBI could conduct a proper investigation. Solicitor General Tushar Mehta opposed the plea and said the state governments concerned had taken and would take appropriate steps.

POLICE HOUSING

The Maharashtra government on Friday announced the formation of a panel to study the ambitious Mumbai Police Housing Township Project to provide housing to over 45,000 constables and officers in the city.

● INDIA bloc seat-sharing formula appears to have hit a roadblock

CPM names 2 nominees as Lalu holds RJD seat meet

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

THE delay in finalising the seat-sharing deal among the INDIA bloc partners prompted the CPM to announce its two candidates for the upcoming Bihar assembly elections. The filing of nominations for the first phase of elections, scheduled for November 6, began on Friday, even as seat-sharing talks remained unresolved.

The CPM announced Satyendra Yadav as its candidate from the Manjhi seat in Saran district and Ajay Kumar from Bibhutipur in Samastipur district. Sources said Yadav will file his nomination papers on October 14, while Kumar will do so on October 16. In the 2020 assembly elections, CPM had contested four seats and won two.

The announcement came shortly after the RJD met in Patna to try and finalise the contentious seat-sharing deal. Congress, a key ally, had given an ultimatum to RJD to complete the arrangements quickly. RJD supremo Lalu Prasad attended the meeting.

Congress leaders reportedly told INDIA bloc coordinator for the elections, Tejashwi Yadav, that they would start filing nominations for the seats going to polls in the first phase. The top leadership of Congress, in consultation with state leaders, has approved the names of 13 candidates for the first phase, though a formal announcement is yet to be made. The Congress has so far identified 25 seats for the elections.

The Congress is insisting on at least 65 seats and a deputy chief minister post. In 2020, Congress contested 70 seats and won 19. On Friday, its screening committee finalised the candidate names, and the party's election committee will meet on October 11 to discuss seat-sharing. Bihar Congress chief Rajesh Kumar said, "We have allotted the seats to our party candidates and asked them to start preparations in their respective constituencies. But a formal announcement will be made very soon."

According to the discussions at RJD's meeting, RJD will contest 138 seats, Congress 52, the Left parties (CPI(M-L), CPI, CPM) 35, VIP 15, RLJP 2, and JMM 1. CPI general secretary D Raja said that the party has submitted a list of 24 seats to Tejashwi Yadav and hoped the party would get a "respectable" number of seats.

Even if the INDIA bloc manages to finalise the seat-sharing deal, it still has to resolve the impasse over the CM face.

Nominations begin for first phase of elections

With the notification issued for the first phase of Assembly elections for 121 seats, candidates will be able to file their nominations in the constituencies between 11 am to 3 pm till October 17. Scrutiny of nomination papers will be held on October 18 and the last date for withdrawal of nominations is October 2.

● Party claims more than 6 RJD MLAs likely to join in next two days

NDA seat-sharing deal by today evening, says BJP

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

BIHAR BJP president Dilip Jaiswal on Friday said the ruling National Democratic Alliance (NDA) may announce seat-sharing arrangements among its allies for the assembly elections by Saturday evening. Jaiswal said discussions over the seat-sharing formula among allies are over, and a consensus has been reached. "A formal announcement on seat-sharing pact may be made either in Patna or Delhi by Saturday evening," he said.

He also claimed that more than six RJD MLAs were likely to join the BJP in the next two days. On Friday, two RJD MLAs—Bharat Bind and Sangeeta Kumari—resigned from their posts and submitted their resignations to the Vidhan Sabha secretary. Assembly Speaker Nand Kishore Yadav is reported to have accepted their resignations. Bind had won from Babhua, while Kumari was elected from Mohania, both in Kaimur district. The two MLAs had supported the Nitish Kumar-led NDA government during the floor test in February 2024.

Leader of the Opposition Tejashwi Prasad Yadav had earlier demanded that the Speaker cancel their membership for defying the party whip, but no disciplinary action was taken against them.

Meanwhile, Union minister Chirag Paswan's Lok Janshakti Party (Ram Vilas) has called a meeting on Saturday to discuss seat sharing within the NDA and finalise candidates for the Bihar elections. Chirag's deal with the BJP is reported to be almost final.

BJP MP and Union Minister Nityanand Rai visited Paswan's residence in Delhi on Thursday to resolve deadlocks. Chirag said, "The talks are progressing in a positive direction and are now in their final stages. We aim to deliberate thoroughly on every detail, be it seats, candidates, or campaign strategies. I have no worries about getting proper respect in the alliance when PM Narendra Modi is there."

LJP (RV) may accept 25-26 seats, down from its earlier demand of 40, while pushing for its "Bihar First, Bihari First" agenda. Chirag may also get a more important ministry and possibly a Rajya Sabha seat.

Union minister Jitan Ram Manjhi's Hindustani Awam Morcha (HAM) demanded 15 seats but was offered seven. Reports say JD(U) may contest 102 seats, BJP 101, LJP (RV) 25, HAM 08, and RLM 07 seats.

Jolt to Nitish as former MP and MLA join RJD

CM Nitish Kumar's JD(U) suffered yet another jolt within a week after its two prominent leaders, including former MP Santosh Kushwaha and former MLA Rahul Sharma, joined RJD. Kushwaha served as MP from Purnea for two terms, Sharma represented Ghosi assembly constituency in Jehanabad district.

New BJP chief tours state, shapes his team

Gujarat BJP president Jagdish Vishwakarma has begun a seven-day statewide tour from October 10 to 17 to tighten the party's organisation. He has asked supporters to greet him only with books, which he plans to donate to needy students. During the tour, he will address six major party meetings. There is strong speculation that a new regional BJP team will be announced after the tour. Four general secretaries are likely to be selected zone-wise, representing Patidar, Kshatriya and tribal communities. Party insiders see this tour as a serious effort to strengthen the grassroots network before upcoming electoral battles.

BJP red-faced as party workers brawl in Surat

A public fight between two BJP workers in Surat, considered the political base of Union minister C.R. Patil, has embarrassed the party. A video shows Dinesh Savaliya and Shailesh Jariwala arguing and then fighting inside the party office. The issue reportedly began over tea and snacks before it escalated. Savaliya is seen slapping Jariwala. The party has issued notices to both, demanding a response within three days. Jariwala has filed a police complaint at Udhna station, accusing Savaliya of assault and threats. Party sources say Savaliya was also involved in earlier disputes. The action is being seen as a warning against internal indiscipline.

Congress slams BJP over coop mandate row

The BJP's mandate system in cooperative institutions has turned into a political flashpoint. After growing opposition within the sector, even former BJP president CR Patil has distanced himself from the practice. The Congress seized the moment, with senior leader Jayanarayan Vyas accusing the BJP of running "monopoly and multi-crore scams" through cooperatives. He said cooperatives should remain neutral and not be drawn into politics. He also cited the 1993 Mehsana Cooperative Bank election as an example of how political control can backfire. Vyas accused the BJP of saying one thing and doing another.

10 MP cops suspended over hawala money

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

TEN police personnel, including a woman sub-divisional police officer (SDPO), have been suspended for allegedly misappropriating ₹1.5 crore out of the ₹2.96 crore suspected hawala money in MP's Seoni district, officials said on Friday.

Nagpur resident Sohan Parmar said in his complaint that he was travelling from Katni to Jalna in a car with ₹2.96 crore cash that belonged to a bullion trader. The cash was suspected hawala money.

A police team led by SDPO Pooja Pandey and Bandol police station in-charge Arpit Bhairam intercepted the vehicle near Sheeladevi Bypass on October 8-9 night.

Parmar was detained overnight along with the cash at Bandol police station.

The vehicle was released on October 9 morning. Knowing about this, the bullion trader rushed to Seoni and found that the police report only mentioned about the seizure of ₹1.45 crore. A probe, ordered by Seoni SP Sunil Mehta and Jabalpur IG, found that the remaining over ₹1.5 crore was pocketed by the cops involved in the night search operation. The SDPO and nine cops were then suspended.

Haryana SIT formed to probe cop's death, DGP named as accused in FIR

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

THE Chandigarh Police on Friday constituted a six-member Special Investigation Team (SIT) to probe the FIR registered in connection with the 'suicide' of Haryana IPS officer Y Puran Kumar. The SIT will be led by Chandigarh IG Pushpendra Kumar. Puran Kumar allegedly shot himself dead at his Chandigarh residence on Tuesday and left behind a 'final note'.

The order issued by Chandigarh DGP Sagar Preet Hooda said, "The SIT shall investigate all aspects of FIR No 156/2025, including evidence collection, witness examination, take expert opinions, legal advice, etc in a time-bound manner and preparation of final report upon completion."

The Chandigarh Police registered an FIR late Thursday evening with charges of abetment to suicide and some provisions of the SC/ST Act based on the 'final note' by the deceased police officer, who had named many senior IPS officers, and specifically referred to Haryana DGP Shatrujeet Kapur and Rohtak SP Narendra Bijarniya for allegedly harassing and maligning him.

Earlier, Puran Kumar's wife Amneet P Kumar, a senior IAS officer, wrote to the police questioning "incomplete information" in the FIR, and asked for it to be amended "to accurately reflect the names of all accused".

In a letter to Chandigarh Police SSP Kanwardeep Kaur, Amneet has sought that "diluted sections of the SC/ST Act", which have been added in the FIR, should be amended. The family has refused to give its nod for post-mortem and cremation until the FIR is amended and names of DGP Kapur and and Rohtak SP Bijarniya are included as the accused. Amneet has certified copies of the 'final note' for record and verification. Sources said the government may consider sending DGP Kapur on leave and transfer Bijarnia.

Russian racket behind trap, extortion of my son: Mother

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

IN the quiet town of Morbi, a mother's cry is echoing louder than the chaos of war. Her son, Sahil Majothi, who went to Russia to build a future, now stands accused of being a mercenary in the Ukraine war. However, his mother claims he was framed, trapped, and lured into the Russian Army after a false drug case destroyed his life.

The shocking saga unfolded after the Ukrainian Army released a video of his surrender. His family now pleads for justice, saying their son's dreams were crushed and turned into a battlefield nightmare.

Sahil left for Russia on January 9, 2024, hoping to study and build a better life. He reached St. Petersburg, where he joined a courier company to support his studies. One day, he was asked to deliver a parcel. Trusting his employer, he went ahead, and as soon as he delivered it, Russian police swooped in and arrested him, accusing him of carrying drugs.

From that moment, everything spiralled. His mother, Hasina Majothi, recalls the phone call that shattered her world. "The police said my son was arrested. But he was innocent," she cried. Sahil had told authorities everything about the courier company and the owner. Yet, no one else was touched. Only he remained behind bars.

Then came the bait. Hasina Majothi said, "The Russian government allegedly told Sahil, 'accept Russian citizenship, and life will get better'. He was promised a house and other benefits. But when the family couldn't pay the ₹10 crore ransom demanded by people claiming to be linked to the Russian Army, threats followed."

Hasina said, "They abused me when I refused. I have all the evidence." The family complained to the Russian government, which investigated and declared the extortionists fraudsters. However, by then, Sahil's life was already cornered. He was offered another way out: to join the Russian Army. Trapped with no choice, Sahil signed up.

Months later, on the Ukrainian border, the truth came to light. A viral video released by the Ukrainian Army showed Sahil surrendering, hands raised, telling soldiers he did not want to fight. It was this video that ripped open the story of how a courier boy from Morbi became a pawn in a global war.

Now, Hasina has sought help from the Gujarat government. "The chief minister has given us time on Monday. We will present everything," she said.

Her plea is not just for Sahil, but for countless others. "My son was trapped. Tomorrow, other boys will be trapped too. This must stop."

Accused of being mercenary in Ukraine

Sahil Majothi, who went to Russia to build a future, now stands accused of being a mercenary in Ukraine conflict. However, his mother claims he was framed, and lured into the Russian Army. The shocking saga unfolded after the Ukrainian Army released a video of his surrender. His family now pleads for justice, saying their son's dreams were crushed.

Space, Earth science researchers rue US funding cuts for NASA

BALA CHAUHAN @ BENGALURU

RESEARCHERS of space and other critical domains such as Earth sciences, agriculture, climate change etc rue federal funding cuts for National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) by the Trump administration, which are impacting research worldwide.

"NASA's data portals have been vital in providing high-quality datasets that help scientists understand local, regional and global phenomena across various themes. Research centres everywhere rely on this open access. With updates now slowing or stopping, the flow of crucial information is disrupted," Dr Nithyananda Yogeswaran, Professor & Head - Geospatial Research Programme, Takshashila Institution, Bengaluru, told TNIE.

NASA's data portal on Fire Information for Resource Management System (FIRMS) states: "Due to the lapse in federal government funding, NASA is not updating this website, and some data/information may be temporarily unavailable." On May 2, the US administration released its 2026 "skinny budget" request for the coming fiscal year, which proposed cutting NASA funding by nearly 25 per cent, from $24.8billion to $18.8bn. "Though some portals still share raw or processed data and interactive visual tools, the overall accessibility and frequency of updates have clearly taken a hit -- affecting not only space research but also studies that protect human life and support sustainable development," he added.

Regular data updates are essential for monitoring climate patterns, weather systems, natural disasters, pollution, land cover changes, social development, resource management, and even military activities. "NASA has invested heavily over decades in developing space-based systems that monitor Earth and beyond. It's not just about satellite images -- it's about consistent, reliable data from both remote sensing and ground-based observations collected globally for nearly half a century. For many, NASA's archives are the go-to source for understanding how the planet has changed over time," explained the Bengaluru-based geo-spatialist.

On why researchers bank heavily on NASA and other countries or space agencies have not taken the lead on data dissemination and analysis, Yogeswaran said "what makes NASA's portals unique is that they don't just share raw data, they process and present it in ways that are easy to interpret, even for those without technical expertise. The visual formats and user-friendly interfaces make the data accessible to a wider audience. These portals have been maintained and upgraded continuously to meet evolving scientific needs. While other nations and agencies have data portals, none have matched NASA's consistency, scale, or reach," he said.

Regarding the impact on the Indian research community, the geo-spatialist said Indian researchers, like their global counterparts, "depend heavily on NASA's open datasets. For instance, assessing Landsat series satellite datasets through the Earth Explorer portal has long been a standard tool for accessing three decades of satellite imagery with uniform metadata. Thousands of studies and even routine academic exercises in remote sensing rely on them. Any long-term disruption will affect research output in India unless quick alternatives are developed".

Whether Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) can better position itself in data dissemination, Yogeswaran said "ISRO operates several Earth observation satellites and provides valuable data, but the scale cannot yet be compared with NASA's global coverage. It's not just about data collection -- true parity requires robust data analysis, visualisation systems and extensive research and development... These demand significant investment in both technology and field instruments to ensure scientific accuracy".

He cautioned that this could be a wake-up call for space agencies across the globe, including ISRO, to scale up the way information is disseminated. "This should prompt space agencies and research organisations worldwide to develop alternatives to NASA's data sources. There's a need for more collaborative platforms that share Earth and atmospheric science data freely and in simplified formats for wider use. Agencies like the European Space Agency (ESA) and ISRO can help bridge the gap," added Yogeswaran.

NC announces candidates for 3 of 4 RS seats, leaves 1 for Cong

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

IN a key political move, three-time former Jammu and Kashmir Chief Minister and National Conference (NC) president Farooq Abdullah will stay rooted in Jammu and Kashmir politics and not move to the national stage. The ruling NC on Friday announced its candidates for three of the four Rajya Sabha seats from the Union Territory, leaving one seat for ally Congress. The opposition BJP is expected to announce its nominees on Saturday.

NC General Secretary Ali Mohammad Sagar said that the party has decided to field Chaudhary Mohammad Ramzan, Sajjad Ahmad Kitchloo, and Shammi Oberoi for three RS seats.

There had been speculation that Farooq Abdullah might be the NC's candidate and move to the national stage, given the dual power structure in J&K. His exclusion is seen as a strategic decision to strengthen his son Omar Abdullah's political position.

On the fourth seat, Sagar said discussions are ongoing with Congress. The party, which has six members in the 90-member J&K Assembly, is seeking a seat that is "more secured" rather than one with a high risk of the BJP winning.

Voting for the four RS seats will be held on October 24, with counting also on the same day.

BJP sources said the party may nominate former J&K Deputy Chief Minister Dr Nirmal Singh, former J&K BJP president Ravindra Raina, and current J&K BJP president Sat Sharma. The BJP plans to contest all four seats to test the NC coalition's strength.

Meanwhile, the Awami Ittihad Party (AIP), led by jailed MP Er Rashid, has decided not to support either NC or BJP and will field its own candidate.

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

THE Draft Electricity (Amendment) Bill, 2025 released by the power ministry on Friday proposes to allow multiple electricity distribution companies to operate in the same area using shared infrastructure, marking a major change from the existing provisions.

The earlier law allowed more than one distribution licensee in a region, but only under restrictive conditions. Under the current framework, any new company entering the market must build its own complete distribution network — including poles, wires, and substations — and could access existing infrastructure only with special permission.

A similar attempt was made by the Centre in 2022, however, later the draft amendment was put on backburner amid opposition from state governments and power sector employee unions. The new Bill seeks to create a modern and efficient legal framework to address severe financial stress faced by distribution companies, which together have accumulated losses of over ₹6.9 lakh crore. The Ministry of Power on Friday released the Draft Electricity (Amendment) Bill, 2025, inviting comments and suggestions from stakeholders within 30 days.

The Bill aims to make the power sector more financially sustainable, consumer-friendly, competitive, and cleaner. It requires power tariffs to reflect the actual cost of supply, while allowing state governments to continue giving subsidies, provided they pay these in advance. It proposes to eliminate cross-subsidies for Railways, Metro systems, and Manufacturing Enterprises within five years.

The Bill relaxes the universal service obligation that required distribution companies to supply power to all consumers, including large industrial units capable of purchasing power directly from generators. Under the proposed changes, State Electricity Commissions can exempt distribution companies from supplying power to consumers with a demand of over one megawatt, allowing these consumers to buy power freely through open access. To ensure uninterrupted power supply, one distribution company in each area will be designated as the supplier of last resort in case other arrangements fail.

In another simplification, the requirement for obtaining a "no objection" from central government for granting a license in areas that include defence establishments has been removed, helping speed up clearances and cut administrative delays. The draft empowers the Central Electricity Authority (CEA) to set cybersecurity standards for power system, protecting grids and infrastructure from potential hacking or data breaches.

BILLING FOR A CHANGE

1. Electricity bill to allow multiple distribution companies to operate in the same area using shared infrastructure
2. Under current framework, any new company entering market must build its own complete distribution network
3. It requires electricity tariffs to reflect the actual cost of supply, while allowing state governments to continue giving subsidies
4. Bill further relaxes the universal service obligation that required distribution companies to supply electricity to all consumers
5. Under proposed changes, State Electricity Commissions can exempt distribution companies from supplying power to consumers

NITI Aayog bats for decriminalising minor tax offences

PUSHPITA DEY @ New Delhi

NITI Aayog has proposed a major overhaul of India's income tax enforcement framework, and recommended decriminalisation of 12 offences under the Income Tax Act, 2025, that are administrative or procedural in nature. Instead of criminal prosecution, the government think-tank has suggested imposing civil or monetary penalties for such defaults.

In its latest paper, Towards India's Tax Transformation: Decriminalisation and Trust-Based Governance, released on Friday as part of the Tax Policy Working Paper Series, NITI Aayog outlined a strategy to promote trust-based tax governance. The Aayog called current legal framework as overly punitive, with 35 actions or omissions classified as criminal offences under the Act—many could result in imprisonment of up to 7 years.

The report suggested a fundamental shift in burden of proof—from taxpayers to authorities. Currently, law presumes a "culpable mental state," requiring taxpayers to prove their innocence even in cases of unintentional lapses. The Aayog suggests limiting criminal liability only to cases involving fraudulent or mala fide intent, drawing a clear line between genuine errors and deliberate tax evasion.

"Decriminalising administrative, technical, and procedural defaults like delayed TDS deposit or return filing due to genuine reasons and replacing them with higher monetary penalties will discourage such lapses while providing relief in bona fide cases. Retaining prosecution for mala fide offences is essential to ensure effective enforcement of the law," said Gaurav Makhijani, head of tax, Roedl & Partner. Tax experts have largely welcomed the suggestions, viewing it as a step toward improving ease of compliance and reducing fear-driven tax behaviour, especially among small and mid-sized businesses. They cautioned that the reforms must be implemented with robust safeguards.

"The success of these reforms depends on transparent, consistent administration. If not implemented carefully, they could create uncertainty. The idea of 'trust-based governance' is promising but success rests on institutional design, fair discretion, and improved capacity across tax-related functions," said Ashish Karundia, founder of CA Firm, Ashish Karundia & Co.

Tell your story or others will rewrite: Adani

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

ADANI GROUP Chairman Gautam Adani on Friday called for India to take charge of its global narrative through cinema, storytelling, and emerging technologies. "If we do not narrate who we are, others will rewrite who we were," he said.

Speaking at Whistling Woods International, Adani emphasised that India must stop allowing foreign voices to define its identity. "Silence is not humility, it is surrender," he said, pointing to films like Gandhi and Slumdog Millionaire as examples of how India's stories have often been told through Western lenses. He argued that India's failure to own its story has allowed others to profit off caricatures of its reality. He warned of the double-edged power of storytelling in an era where narratives "move markets faster than numbers"

Inflows into SIPs up 4% to ₹30,422 cr in Sept; gold ETFs see 282% surge

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

A healthy 4% rise in inflows to the systematic investment plans (SIPs) and a 282% jump in gold exchange traded fund (ETF) inflows cushioned a 9% drop in equity funds, helping assets managed by the 47-member MF industry remain in the green trajectory for the 55th consecutive month, adding 0.57% more to the assets at ₹75.35 lakh crore in September, up from ₹74.93 lakh crore in August.

However from an absolute numbers perspective for the first time, the industry saw an outflow of ₹43,146 crore in September as against an inflow of ₹52,443 crore in August, a month-on-month fall in net flows. This is the first time since April this year that inflow has turned negative. With the market remaining in jittery, inflows into equity funds fell for the second consecutive month, falling 9% in September to ₹30,422 crore from ₹33,430 crore in August, while gold ETF inflows rose 282% to ₹8,363.13 crore — highest on record— from ₹2,189.51 crore in August, despite soaring gold prices and inflows into SIP rose 4% to ₹29,361 crore, highest ever, from ₹28,265 crore in August, industry lobby Association of Mutual Funds (Amfi) said on Friday. Amfi CEO Venkat Chalasani told reporters this record rise has the SIP AUM jumping to ₹15.52 lakh crore in September, or 20.2% of industry assets and number of SIP accounts stood at 9.25 crore in September.

On the record show by gold ETFs, Kartik Jain, CEO of Shriram AMC, said, "A standout trend is growing appetite for precious metals. Gold ETFs recorded a remarkable incremental addition of ₹8,500 crore, taking AUM past the ₹90,000crore mark. Silver ETFs attracted high attention from new investors, highlighting a diversification shift towards metals."

GRASIM CASE

Asian Paints moves SC against probe

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

ASIAN PAINTS, country's largest paint company, has approached the Supreme Court challenging the Bombay High Court decision that upheld the Competition Commission of India's (CCI) order to investigate the company for allegedly abusing its dominant position in the decorative paints market.

The investigation by the CCI was initiated following a complaint filed by Aditya Birla Group's Grasim Industries on July 1. The Bombay HC on September 11 had dismissed a writ petition filed by Asian Paints. A division bench rejected Asian Paints' argument that Grasim's complaint was barred under Section 26(2-A) of the Act.

Tata Trusts board meets amid public listing call

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

THE board of Tata Trusts, recently hit by an unprecedented revolt from four trustees led by Mehli Mistry — a close friend of the late Ratan Tata and first cousin of the late Cyrus Mistry — against chairman Noel Tata, held a 'cordial' meeting on Friday. It discussed only routine charity matters, even as the government urged the warring sides to resolve their differences quickly. The meeting took place a day after the first death anniversary of Ratan Tata and amid growing questions over Noel Tata's leadership.

Tata Trusts own 66.6% of Tata Sons that controls around 400 companies, 30 of them publicly listed with a combined market capitalisation of about ₹30 trillion. While the meeting was underway, the Shapoorji Pallonji Group — which owns 18.4% of Tata Sons, making it the second-largest shareholder after the Trusts — issued a statement urging that Tata Sons be taken public to improve transparency and governance. The company has already missed the Reserve Bank's September 30 deadline for its listing.

"The board met for a few hours and discussed only routine issues, mainly funding for hospital and rural development projects. No contentious issues were raised, and the meeting ended cordially," a source said.

Jimmy Tata, brother of Ratan Tata and a trustee, did not attend the meeting. The spokesperson for Tata Trusts did not respond to calls or text messages.

Gig industry faces attrition amid increase in demand

SANAL SUDEVAN @ Chennai

EVEN as job openings in the gig and temporary staffing sectors have surged 15–20% year-on-year during the ongoing festive season, manpower supply has failed to keep pace.

Attrition in these sectors remains alarmingly high at 35–40%, creating operational challenges for employers and staffing agencies.

Industry executives say that while festive hiring is driving demand, retaining workers remains difficult. "Over 2.16 lakh temporary and gig roles are being generated this festive season, marking a 15–20% increase over 2024," said Deepesh Gupta, Director and Head of General Staffing, Adecco India. "E-commerce accounts for 35% of the demand, followed by logistics and quick commerce at 15% and 11%. Retail, BFSI, and hospitality are also hiring strongly, especially in Tier 1 and 2 cities."

However, warehouse operations are facing 10–12% higher vacancy levels than last year, with some regions reporting up to 30% unfilled positions. Gupta said attrition in temporary and gig roles continues to hover around 35–40% per month.

Balasubramanian A, senior vice-President, TeamLease Services, said frequent job switching and seasonal migration are worsening the crunch. "Workers move between platforms to maximise earnings, and many return home for festivals like Navratri and Diwali, causing a shortage in delivery and warehouse roles," he said.

Recruitment firm CIEL HR said companies are increasingly turning to flexi-staffing to manage demand swings while limiting fixed costs. "Permanent hiring is becoming more targeted, especially in IT and GCCs, where firms prefer niche skills over large fresher intakes," said Aditya Narayan Mishra, CEO & MD, CIEL HR.

As per the Indian Staffing Federation (ISF), temporary staffing employs 7.2 million workers in India but its growth rate in FY2024–25 has slowed compared to post-COVID years. "Post the September 2025 GST rate cut, temporary staffing is yet to see full impact on new jobs, though festive hiring in e-commerce, retail, and auto has picked up," said Suchita Dutta, Executive Director, ISF. She added that gig hiring is expanding faster, helped by lower taxes on goods that have boosted consumption. Dutta said attrition in temporary staffing generally ranges between 17% and 40%, depending on industry and role. "High turnover stems from the project-based nature of assignments and frequent movement for better pay or location," she said.

Despite the broader GST rationalisation, 18% levy on staffing services continues to weigh on formal hiring. "The 18% GST on staffing increases employer costs by about ₹3,240 per ₹18,000 salary, pushing jobs towards the informal sector," Dutta noted. ISF estimates reducing GST on staffing to 5% could unlock 15–20 million formal jobs and generate ₹1–1.5 lakh crore in long-term tax revenue. However, Rishi Agrawal, CEO and co-founder of TeamLease RegTech, disagreed that GST rates directly affect hiring.

PLANS TO SPEND $111 BILLION IN 2026

Malaysia Prime Minister Anwar Ibrahim on Friday (Oct 10) unveiled a RM470 billion (US$111.4 billion) Budget 2026 that will be the country's largest ever. It outstrips the record RM452 billion earmarked for this year. However, these sums include components that the government has typically not used in a budget sum as they go beyond the usual operating and development expenditures, which would be RM419.2 billion for 2026. This was the budget figure the government had cited in documents before Anwar announced the much higher sum in Parliament that included allocations for government-linked investment companies (RM30 billion), public-private investments (RM10 billion) as well as investments from statutory bodies and government-linked companies (RM10.8 billion). Without these, the RM419.2 billion operating and development expenditure allocation will still outstrip the record RM412.1 billion earmarked for this year.

PHILIPPINE

CENTRAL BANK SURPRISES WITH RATE CUT

The Philippine central bank has reduced interest rates for the fourth consecutive time on Thursday, surprising markets as it pointed to a weaker growth outlook. Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) cut its benchmark overnight reverse repurchase rate by 25 basis points to 4.75% from 5.00%. The central bank also lowered its benchmark lending rate to 5.25% from 5.50%. The decision caught many analysts off guard, with only three of 13 economists surveyed by The Wall Street Journal anticipating the rate cut. The majority had expected rates to remain unchanged, citing concerns about peso weakness and economic uncertainty. This marks the fourth straight rate reduction by the Philippine central bank as policymakers continue to adjust monetary policy in response to changing economic conditions.

JAPAN

WHOLESALE INFLATION HOLDS STEADY

Japan's wholesale prices rose 2.7% in the year to September, data showed on Friday, holding steady from the previous month in a sign of persistent cost pressure that will likely keep the central bank under pressure to raise still-low interest rates. The yen's recent sharp falls, triggered by receding market bets of a near-term rate hike by the Bank of Japan (BOJ), could drive up inflation by causing a renewed rise in import costs, some analysts say. Persistent inflation would add to headaches for Japan's new ruling party chief Sanae Takaichi, who has pledged to curb rising living costs upon becoming the next prime minister. "We are starting to see a negative cycle in which the BOJ's slow pace of rate hikes is depreciating yen and pushing up the cost of living," said Izuru Kato, chief economist at Totan Research. Star para athlete Simran's guide Saifi provisionally suspended by NADA

INDRANEEL DAS/FIROZ MIRZA
@ Chennai

IN a dramatic turn of event on Friday, Umar Saifi, guide of star para-athlete Simran Sharma, was included in the list of provisionally suspended athletes by the National Anti-Doping Agency, only a day ahead of the felicitation function organised to honour medal winners of the World Para Athletics Championships. The championship was held from September 27 to October 5 in New Delhi. It is understood that Saifi was tested positive before the event.

Saifi guided visually impaired Simran, who of late has become the poster girl of Indian para-athletics, to 100m gold and 200m silver in T12 class at the World Para Athletics Championships. The T12 class is for athletes with moderate visual impairment, who may compete with or without a guide. Saifi and Simran are now expected to miss the programme to be held at Major Dhyan Chand National Stadium on Saturday with sports minister Dr Mansukh Mandaviya expected to be in attendance. Satyanarayana, chairperson Para Athletics, Paralympic Committee of India (PCI), confirmed to this daily that the list of suspended athletes has been provided to the sports ministry and it has been urged not to give clearance to the offenders to attend the function.

The 2025 edition turned out to be India's best as they won a total of 22 medals — six gold, nine silver and seven bronze — finishing 10th in the medal tally. "As an athletic coach, I recommended criminal proceedings against dope cheats during a meeting called by the sports minister inviting suggestions from stakeholders for framing the sports policy. I stand by my recommendations and strongly believe every cheat should be punished and if he or she has been a government employee and expenses have been made on him or her by the government, the same should be recovered," he added.

As per the list uploaded by the NADA on its website, steroid Drostanolone was found in Saifi's sample. Saifi started running with Simran only a few months ago. He himself is the runner and was expected to compete in the upcoming U-23 National Championships but that looked impossible now.

Saifi's suspension also meant Simran could be stripped of her two medals. "Yes, that's the norm...If the guide is found to be dope tainted, then the para athlete's medal and award has to be revoked. So far, we haven't received any communication from NADA in this regard but on receiving the list and enquiring further, I can say suspended Saifi is the same who guided Simran," he signed off.

IS IT TIME TO TALK ABOUT FIVE-BOWLER STRATEGY?

India's dependence on part-timers could hurt them vs stronger sides

GOMESH S @ Visakhapatnam

IT was about 5.30 PM here at the ACA-VDCA Stadium here on Friday. The Australian team, having landed in the city the day before, had completed their training sessions, while the Women in Blue had arrived for optional practice. After all, less than 20 hours ago, they had just lost a crucial tie against South Africa at the same venue.

India's vice-captain Smriti Mandhana was the first to walk on to the field, going through her warm-ups before padding up. Even as the rest — Arundhati Reddy, Renuka Singh Thakur, Radha Yadav and Amanjot Kaur — were warming up, there was an impromptu meeting going on between skipper Harmanpreet Kaur and head coach Amol Muzumdar in front of the dugout. They stood there for more than 20 minutes, having an intense discussion about the skipper's stance and footwork — that is what it seemed like.

Shortly after, both Harmanpreet and Mandhana were batting together in the nets with Radha, Amanjot, Renuka and Arundhati bowling. As the training continued, watching from afar, one cannot help but think that only two of the four bowlers who had turned up may take the field against reigning world champions Australia on Sunday. At least that is how this team management has been operating so far — fielding five primary bowling options and batting depth up to No. 8/9. It has been the template that captain Harmanpreet and coach Muzumdar have preferred. In the last two years or, there seems to be a preference for all-rounders while sticking to five bowling options. Since the beginning of 2024, India have tried to field five bowlers unless forced otherwise. And they believe it has worked well for them as they have won 20 of the 30 games in this period (till Friday). In fact, when asked about fielding only five bowlers, bowling coach Aavishkar Salvi defended their approach. "If you ask me, depending upon the conditions, the team will take a call on the playing eleven, the choice of the playing eleven. If you see the options we have, there are five options, but there are other options within the team who have done so well at the international level; not just economically, but they have also picked up wickets. We have a lot of options within the group," he said in Colombo before the Pakistan game.

However, there is more to it. Of the 30 games since 2024, India won 10 of the 11 games against Ireland, West Indies, Sri Lanka and Pakistan. Against SENA countries (South Africa, England, New Zealand and Australia), India have played 19 and lost nine. And therein lies the issue. Of those 19 games, India fielded five primary bowlers in 16 of them. On only three occasions did they go in with six bowling options — against Australia in New Chandigarh, New Delhi and Perth. In the two home matches, India were forced to play the sixth bowler because Jemimah Rodrigues was injured and had to play Arundhati. Those three games apart, India have made a conscious choice to field five bowlers every single time.

Their part-time bowlers have bowled 33 overs against SENA teams, taking two wickets while going for 6.3 runs per over. This is in contrast to the other teams, where the part-timers bowled 23.5 overs, taking four wickets with an economy of 5.55. It also does not help that they have shuffled around bowlers so much that India have handed 17 debuts to bowlers or bowling all-rounders since 2023. Now, one could argue that nine losses in 19 games against top teams seem like they are on equal footing. However, of the nine, six of the losses came against Australia. Against the other three countries, they understandably have a better record in bilaterals. The World Cup, however, is a different ball game altogether, as one could see in Visakhapatnam on Thursday. South Africa, a team that struggled to win anything in a bilateral tour last year, took apart India's five-person bowling attack despite being reduced to 81/5 during a tense chase.

An archetypal Jaiswal's innings

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@ New Delhi

CLOSE your eyes and imagine an archetypal Yashasvi Jaiswal innings in red-ball cricket. What do you see? Lots of drives down the ground, some disdainful cuts and a few strokes straight out white-ball cricket? You wouldn't be wrong. However, Jaiswal is also very methodical in how he goes about constructing a long red-ball innings. He takes time to judge and assess the pitch and the conditions and isn't too bothered with hitting boundaries 10 minutes into an innings. Once he has sussed out the nature of the strip and the opposition bowlers, that's when he begins to show his full range.

It's why the start of a bellwether Jaiswal innings is an important indication. If it contains some leaves, a few singles on both sides of the wicket and where the bat doesn't go in search of deliveries slanted across him from over the wicket... he may be in for the long haul. This was the chops he exhibited before he brought up his seventh Test 100 against West Indies on Day One of the second Test at the Arun Jaitley Stadium on Friday. On an increasingly sun-kissed day in front of a decent turnout considering it wasn't a holiday, the 23-year-old married patience in the first session before following it up with exuberance in the second to put the visiting bowling attack to the sword.

He did have to survive a testing early spell — there were three plays and misses inside the first hour — when there was some early movement. Even as KL Rahul got himself going with a flurry of boundaries, the Mumbaikar was happy to play out dot balls at the other end. In fact, he was on one after the first 15 balls before guiding a ball through the cordon for four.

But the shot that really got him going also woke up the few 1000 early birds inside the Stadium. Anderson Phillip, in place of Johann Layne, had started the session with some tidy bowling. But when he went a touch too full, Jaiswal picked the length and hammered it back past the bowler. It was uppish but it was hit with a lot of venom. It was one of the hallmarks of his batting; punishing the pacers whenever they went full.

Post lunch, when they went short and wide, he stood tall and cut them for boundaries. Roston Chase & Co tried but they couldn't stop the bleeding: Jaiswal, 40 on 78 at lunch, motored along in the second session. When the spinners came on from both ends, the opener displayed his class all around the wicket. It's something he did last year against the visiting England team and he did the same to the trio of Chase, Khary Pierre and Jomel Warrican. All three of them suffered at the Jaiswal altar but it wasn't only via fours. Off his unbeaten 173, 92 came against the trio (45 singles, eight fours).

SCOREBOARD

India's 1st innings: Jaiswal batting 173; Rahul st Imlach b Warrican 38; Sai Sudharsan lbw Warrican 87; Gill batting 20. Extras: 0. Total: 318/2 in 90 ovs. FoWs: 1-58, 2-251. Bowling: Seales 16-1-59-0, Phillip 13-2-44-0, Greaves 8-1-26-0, Pierre 20-1-74-0, Warrican 20-3-60-2, Chase 13-0-55-0.

1k runs vs spin since Jan 2024

He has multiple options for every ball and knows he can tuck them for cheap singles in front of square on the leg side if there's no release shot to be had. It's what has made him the most successful batter against spin bowling in this format since the beginning of 2024. He can access different areas, be it over the bowler's head or over mid-wicket. He also likes the late cut. For somebody who prefers to hit the ball, he's also a touch player.

Just as the first shadows were forming an orderly queue to streak across the famous old ground, the Mumbai batter brought up a 1000 runs against slower balls in the longest format since January 1, 2024.

A preference for daddy 100s

Like most openers, Jaiswal is vulnerable early on in his innings. This year alone, he has been dismissed for 10 or below five times in 14 innings but when he passes that early phase, he invariably makes it count. His incredible appetite for runs — something Daren Sammy mentioned in the matchday minus two press conference — means he refocuses once he goes past a century. It's why he has been able to score big 100s.

Hockey stars get rare chess lesson

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@ New Delhi

INDIA'S Olympic medal-winning hockey players swapped their sticks for chess sets as all of them were given an introductory class on the basics of the board game in a first-of-its-kind initiative by chief coach Craig Fulton.

The main objective of the mandatory session, according to Fulton, 'was to be aware of strategy'. "Strategy in our game is crucial," he told this daily after the drill finished. "We have a particular strategy on the ball, a particular strategy off the ball. There's a similar correlation in chess with respect to start, middlegame and endgame."

The South African Fulton, who has not shied away from having these kind of one off events when in camp (they have one centred around kabaddi too), added: "When you look at a hockey match, we have four quarters. You can never really win a match in the first two quarters, it's all about how you finish. Start strong, finish stronger, that's the philosophy.

"It's always better when we can expose our players to other sports," Fulton added. That was the basis around which he organised a team bonding session with a rugby match acting as a backdrop. It was to show the players a physical sport where contact is important. The session, taken by Prachura Padakannaya, an International Master (IM), even saw him go up against the duo of Harmanpreet Singh and Vivek Sagar Prasad. "I loved the session," the latter told this daily. "The best thing about the session was he was able to share with the players how an elite chess player thinks. Like he told us that an international player is thinking eight or nine moves ahead which I found very fascinating." Padakannaya, who represented India in various age-group World Championships, is now part owner of the American Gambits team in the Global Chess League (GCL).

Going forward, there are some plans to promote some intra-squad games. "I mean, sure," Fulton said. "We can maybe have some five minute blitz games, with the beginners playing against each other and the intermediates facing each other and so on."

India go down to holders Indonesia, clinch bronze medal

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

INDIAN junior shuttlers' noteworthy campaign at the mixed team event — 2025 Suhandinata Cup — of the ongoing BWF World Junior Championships ended on Friday. The hosts, who were facing defending champions Indonesia in the last-four stage after confirming a medal just a day earlier, lost 0-2 (35-45, 21-45).

Despite the day's shortcoming, the team will walk away with a bronze — India's first-ever at this competition.

On the day, it was the hosts shuttlers who had made a fast start with the men's doubles pairing of Bhargav Ram Arigela and Viswa Tej Gobburu winning their opening tie. Singles specialist Unnati Hooda, who was instrumental against Korea, was tested by Thalita Ramadhani Wiryawan but she managed to maintain India's lead.

Rounak Chouhan could not quite live up to the demands as Moh. Zaki Ubaidillah, his opponent in the men's singles category, flipped the script to put Indonesia in front for the first time in the contest. C Lalramsanga and Vishakha Toppo showed plenty of heart to close the gap in the mixed doubles tie that followed. However, Vennala Kalagotla and Reshika Uthayasooriyan (women's doubles) were no match for Riska Anggraini and Rinjani Kwinnara Nastine, who helped Indonesia pocket the opening game with a comfortable margin.

Semifinal results: Indonesia bt India 2-0; China bt Japan 2-1.

Thousands return home as Gaza truce takes effect

Israel completes first phase of pullback under Trump's peace plan

NUSEIRAT

ISRAEL declared a ceasefire and started pulling back troops in Gaza on Friday, as thousands of displaced Palestinians began to make their way back to their wrecked homes.

After two years of brutal war, the families of Israel's remaining hostages in the territory were also hoping the truce—pushed by US President Donald Trump—would hold.

The Israeli military said its troops had ceased fire at noon (0900 GMT) "in preparation for the ceasefire agreement and the return of hostages".

Three hours later, the US Pentagon confirmed Israel had completed the first phase of a pullback laid out in Trump's peace plan. Israeli forces still hold around 53 percent of the Palestinian territory.

The withdrawal set the clock running on a 72-hour deadline for Hamas to release the remaining hostages held in Gaza.

Israel, meanwhile, published the list of the 250 Palestinian prisoners it plans to release—along with 1,700 Gazans detained since Hamas triggered the latest conflict with its attack on Israel on October 7, 2023.

As the ceasefire began, long columns of Palestinians, exhausted by two years of intense bombardment and what the UN has warned were famine conditions, began a trek from the southern city of Khan Yunis towards their shattered homes further north.

The EU mission at the Rafah border between Gaza and Egypt will be reopening a pedestrian crossing on October 14, Italy said.

Under the ceasefire deal, Hamas will hand over 47 hostages—living and dead—still held from the 251 abducted during the attack two years ago. The remains of one more hostage, held in Gaza since 2014, are also expected to be returned.

Gaza's civil defence agency confirmed that Israeli troops and armoured vehicles were pulling back from forward positions in both Gaza City and Khan Yunis.

But Israel warned some areas were still off-limits and that Palestinians should steer clear of its forces while they were "in the midst of adjusting operational positions in the Gaza Strip".

"We're going back to our areas, full of wounds and sorrow, but we thank God for this situation," 32-year-old Ameer Abu Iyadeh told AFP in Khan Yunis.

Before dawn on Friday, Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's office said the government had approved a framework of the hostage-release deal. AFP

Team of 200 US troops to oversee ceasefire

Washington: A US military team of 200 people will be deployed in the Middle East to "oversee" the Gaza ceasefire between Israel and Hamas after a peace deal brokered by President Donald Trump, senior US officials said Thursday. Admiral Brad Cooper, the head of the US military's Central Command, "will initially have 200 people on the ground. His role will be to oversee, observe, make sure there are no violations," one senior official told reporters. Egyptian, Qatari, Turkish and probably Emirati military officials would be embedded in the team, he said. A second official said that "no US troops are intended to go into Gaza."

2 dead in Pak as Gaza march by radical group turns violent

ISLAMABAD

TWO people were killed and dozens injured, including policemen, when supporters of a radical Islamist party on Friday clashed with police during an attempt to stage protests outside the US Consulate in Pakistan's Lahore city.

The city was virtually paralysed following violent clashes between police and the Tehreek-e-Labbaik Pakistan (TLP) workers, who also wanted to go to Islamabad to stage a protest against Israel's aggression on Gaza.

The internet and cellular network remained suspended in the areas of Lahore where TLP supporters gathered.

According to the police, the protesters pelted officers with stones, beat them with sticks and damaged public property.

"Multan Road remained a battlefield after Friday's prayers between the supporters of the TLP and law enforcers as the former pressed their way to Islamabad. Several policemen and TLP workers were injured in the clashes," a senior Punjab police officer told PTI.

A statement by Edhi spokesperson said Edhi volunteers moved the injured police personnel to various hospitals in the city.

At least 12,000-strong TLP men managed to reach Azadi Chowk, close to the exit point of Lahore. PTI

TENSIONS RISE

Amid India visit by minister, Taliban says Pak bombed Kabul

KABUL

THE Taliban government on Friday accused Pakistan of "violating Kabul's sovereign territory", a day after two explosions were heard in the capital. The Taliban have previously accused Islamabad of border strikes, but this is the first time it has alleged an incursion deep into its territory, describing it as an "unprecedented act".

"Pakistan violated Afghanistan's airspace, bombing a civilian market in the Marghi area of Paktika near the Durand Line and also violating Kabul's sovereign territory," the Defence Ministry said in a post on social media.

"This is an unprecedented, violent, and heinous act in the history of Afghanistan and Pakistan," it added.

The statement did not specify how Kabul's territory had been violated, but AFP journalists heard two loud blasts in the capital late Thursday.

Residents in Marghi reported that a market selling second-hand weapons had been bombed. The statement did not say in what way Pakistan had violated Kabul's territory, but AFP journalists heard two powerful blasts Thursday night.

The same evening, residents in the border town of Marghi reported that a market selling second-hand weapons had been bombed. "If the situation becomes more tense after these actions, the consequences will be attributed to the Pakistani army," the statement added.

It comes as Afghan Foreign Minister Amir Khan Muttaqi made his first visit to India. During the visit, New Delhi announced it was upgrading its mission in Kabul to a full embassy. Pearl Pandya, a senior analyst, said Pakistan had increased its use of airstrikes within Afghan territory this year, targeting alleged Pakistani Taliban hideouts. "These alleged strikes coincide with the Taliban's first diplomatic trip to India since they returned to power in 2021," Pandya said. "An improvement in relations between India and Afghanistan is likely to be resented by Islamabad, fearful of any potential destabilising impact on its western borders." Agencies

TAX EVASION FINE ON PHILIP MORRIS EASED

Thailand's Supreme Court has cut a fine imposed on a local unit of tobacco giant Philip Morris for evading tax on imported cigarettes from $4 million down to about $610,000. The case, which began in 2017, centred on accusations that Philip Morris Thailand underdeclared prices for cigarettes imported from Indonesia in 2002 and 2003. A lower court handed down the original $4 million penalty in 2020 to the local unit of the firm, which owns the Marlboro and L&M brands. Thailand's Supreme Court on Thursday found Philip Morris Thailand guilty of avoiding tax.

Don warns of massive tariffs on China over rare earth curbs

WASHINGTON

US President Donald Trump said Friday he no longer feels the need for a summit with Chinese leader Xi Jinping this month, slamming Beijing for hostile trade practices and threatening "massive" tariffs.

In a lengthy and unexpected Truth Social post, Trump railed against China imposing export controls on rare earth minerals—a critical component in modern technology. "Some very strange things are happening in China! They are becoming very hostile," Trump said in the post, which he sent as he headed for a medical check-up at a military hospital near Washington.

"I was to meet President Xi in two weeks, at APEC, in South Korea, but now there seems to be no reason to do so," he said, adding that he had also seen no reason to call Xi about the issue. Trump added: "One of the Policies that we are calculating at this moment is a massive increase of Tariffs on Chinese products coming into the United States of America."

Wall Street stocks quickly tumbled into negative territory as traders worried the simmering trade war between Washington and Beijing could reignite.

As recently as last week Trump had stressed the importance of his plans to meet Xi at the Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC) summit, which was to be their first encounter since the US president returned to power in January.

He had also said that he would travel to China next year.

But in his post on Friday, Trump said China had sent letters to countries around the world detailing export controls on "each and every element of production having to do with Rare Earths, and virtually anything else they can think of, even if it's not manufactured in China." "There is no way that China should be allowed to hold the World 'captive,' but that seems to have been their plan for quite some time," Trump wrote.

He accused Beijing of "lying in wait" despite what he characterized as six months of good relations, adding that he had not spoken to Xi about the matter. Trump also questioned whether the timing of China's announcement was designed to take the shine off the Gaza ceasefire deal that he brokered this week between Israel and Hamas. AFP

Dissanayake reshuffles Sri Lankan cabinet

COLOMBO

SRI Lankan President Anura Kumara Dissanayake on Friday effected the first reshuffle of his Cabinet.

The reshuffle brings the total number of cabinet members, including Dissanayake, to 23, under the constitutional cap of 25 members. This is the first reshuffle since he formed his National People's Power (NPP) government a year ago.

A fresh face, Susil Ranasinghe, was made the Minister of Housing.

The portfolios of three ministers were reshuffled, with the most significant change involving Minister of Transport Bimal Rathnayaka, whose Ports and Civil Aviation subjects were assigned to Anura Karunatilaka.

In turn, Karunatilaka's Urban Development subject has been given to Rathnayaka, who is also the leader of the House of Parliament.

Rathnayaka's handling of the Ports subject came under controversy when the opposition lodged a complaint with the anti-graft commission over the alleged irregular release of around 323 containers of cargo from the Colombo port in January this year without necessary customs scrutiny. PTI

The US is providing F-35 jets capable of carrying conventional or nuclear weapons, refuelling planes and other support aircraft. Finland and Poland are sending fighter jets. Electronic warfare equipment and reconnaissance and intelligence systems will also be used

Eight killed as two strong quakes strike Philippines

MATI

TWO powerful quakes struck off the southern Philippines on Friday, killing at least eight people and triggering tsunami warnings.

The biggest of the quakes, with a magnitude of 7.4, hit about 20 kilometres off Manay town in the Mindanao region just before 10 am (0100 GMT), according to the United States Geological Survey.

An aftershock with a magnitude of 6.7 rocked the same area almost 10 hours later, one of scores that followed the morning quake.

Both came 11 days after a magnitude 6.9 earthquake killed 75 people and injured more than 1,200 in Cebu province in the central Philippines, according to official data.

Three miners tunnelling for gold were killed when a shaft collapsed in the mountains west of Manay during the larger quake, rescue official Kent Simeon of Pantukan town told AFP. One miner was pulled out alive and several others were injured in the remote hamlet of Gumayan, he said.

"Some tunnels collapsed, but the miners managed to get out," Simeon said. One person was killed in Mati city when a wall collapsed, while two others suffered fatal heart attacks, city disaster official Charlemagne Bagasol told AFP.

Another person was crushed by falling debris in Davao city, more than 100 kilometres west of the epicentre, police said.

A third heart attack victim died in the town of Montevista, provincial disaster official Ednar Dayanghirang told reporters. Philippine authorities issued tsunami warnings shortly after the morning quake as well as for the early evening one, ordering evacuations along the eastern seaboard, though no big waves had been monitored. AFP

'Drama & emotion come to me naturally'

MAHIMA NAGARAJU

YOU may know him as a hapless man caught in his friends' antics in Golmaal, the anxious and troubled Raju in 3 Idiots, a free-spirited student in Rang De Basanti, or the loving father determined to fulfill his son's dream of riding a Ferrari in Ferarri ki Sawaari. With these hits and more under his belt, Sharman Joshi always managed to make audiences laugh with his comedic sensibilities, even while bringing out his characters' emotional depths. All this, he credits to theatre.

"Comic timing is something I've gotten ahold of thanks to plays where directors and audiences were my teachers. People know me for my comic timing but I think what comes to me naturally is drama and emotion," reveals Joshi in a conversation ahead of his visit to the city this weekend for a public showing of the play Raju Raja Ram Aur Main, which was unexpectedly cancelled. Returning to the quadruple role earlier this year after an 8-year break, Joshi has previously performed the rib-tickling comedy drama in private shows in the city.

Many may not know that Joshi got his start in acting through Gujarati plays, coming from a family of decorated thespians. His father Arvind Joshi gave him his first role outside of college productions, a small cameo. "After graduation, I had three options: become a lawyer, go into business or do something with my father. Acting was the first thing that came to me instinctively mainly because of my proximity to this world as a kid. I'd been going to the theatre with my aunt and uncle, watching them perform live – that was my little world apart from my home life," he says. His theatrical career took off with other roles after the initial project with his father, including Ame Lai Gaya, Tame Rahi Gaya, the Gujarati version of Raju Raja Ram Aur Main, of which he's done '700-800 shows'. He stepped back from them when his acting career took off in the late 2000s.

Despite that, something of the stage has stayed in him, as he says, "Those days of pitching your voice on stage may be over but that energy you feel when connecting with an auditorium of people remains. So I approach all my roles like I approach my plays."

Sixteen years after 3 Idiots hit theatres, the film has achieved cult status. It is something that Joshi is still recognised for in the streets and asked about in interviews. While some actors may dislike being associated with a singular film, it's more complex for Joshi. He says, "I relate to the actors who feel that way because you don't want to get caught up with one character, but it's a good feeling at the same time. This kind of film doesn't happen every day, does it? It's a special one that people talk about with so much love and passion. Even today, you bring up 3 Idiots, and we'll talk about it like it came out last night."

He shares an anecdote about his niece, a primary school student when the film came out. "She always remembered it as a sad film because I jump off the window and in her head, it was always a bad film. Just last week, as a 21-year-old, she watched it and and I got so many compliments. I'm so glad I was able to impress my niece," he laughs.

Recently, Joshi's been seen in OTT shows like Kafas on Sony Liv, taking on more serious personas. His Bengali debut Bhalobashar Morshum started filming last month. While he's tight-lipped about the premise, he reveals, "It's a romantic drama that's got various shades of emotions and actors across ages. I can say it's quite lovely." While he doesn't speak Bengali, Joshi has been working hard on memorising and learning the meaning of his lines. He comments, "It's an exciting time because the boundaries between TV, OTT and film and the boundaries between different languages' actors, directors and writers, are merging."

POURING PURPOSE

At the launch of her book One in a Billion in B'luru, the first recipient of the Master of Wine title, Sonal C Holland, raises a glass to courage, conviction and second acts

SRUTHI HEMACHANDRAN

THERE'S something poetic about watching Sonal C Holland gently swirl a glass of deep crimson wine, its reflections catching the afternoon light. The gesture seems to mirror the journey of India's first and only Master of Wine, one that began with curiosity and matured over time into mastery and meaning.

She was recently in Bengaluru for the city launch of her book One in a Billion (officially released in June), exuding thoughtfulness and a quiet passion for the world she has helped shape. "At 33, I chose to step away from a successful corporate career to pursue something more fulfilling. That's when I came across the nascent wine industry in India," she recalls.

Back then, wine culture was still finding its feet, and there were no qualified experts in the country. Yet Holland saw promise where others saw uncertainty. "I saw a huge opportunity for growth and success of both wine and wine professionals," she says. That conviction led her to London, where she studied wine formally for ten years, earning several globally recognised certifications before becoming India's first Master of Wine in 2016.

Her decision, however, was initially met with a mix of intrigue and doubt. "Most people in India had never imagined wine could be a serious profession, especially for a woman," she says. Determined to change that perception, she founded the Sonal Holland Wine Academy, now one of India's foremost institutions for beverage education, to make world-class wine education accessible and affordable.

But the road to mastery was far from smooth. "While pursuing the Master of Wine title, I couldn't find good mentorship and learning opportunities in India," she explains. Frequent travel abroad was necessary to attend seminars, tastings and training sessions, which meant long absences from home. "Being apart from my toddler daughter was the hardest part. Thankfully, my husband and parents held the fort in my absence, always encouraging me to focus on my studies," she shares.

If gender could have been a barrier, Holland refused to see it as one. "The industry was male-dominated when I started, but I never saw my gender as a limitation. I've always chosen to work with men who respect ambition, value expertise and believe in co-creating success. Today, the scene has transformed. Women are leading across various spheres of the wine industry. It fills me with pride to see more women shaping the industry's future."

Her book launch event in the city, Beyond the Days of Wine and Roses, reflected this spirit. "Reinvention is the courage to step away from certainty and start again, while resilience is what keeps you going when the path gets tough," she says. "I believe we all reach a moment when we crave a second act to redefine ourselves with greater purpose and authenticity."

That sense of renewal also inspired her book, One in a Billion, which traces her journey through India's evolving wine landscape. "The inspiration came from a desire to share my journey in wine. Over the past two decades, I've had a ringside view of some of the most surreal and unforgettable experiences that have nourished my soul, expanded my palate and shaped who I am today," she reflects. The challenge, Holland adds, lies in carving time to write amid multiple roles.

If there's one takeaway she hopes readers will remember from her book, it's to use their skills and knowledge to create a meaningful impact. "Act upon your ideas, because if you don't, someone else will. Invest in yourself, for it pays the highest return," Holland says. As for what lies ahead, her mission remains as spirited as ever. "I will continue to share my knowledge and passion for wine, champion India's vibrant alcohol beverage industry on the global stage, and ensure that our country has a strong, respected voice at every wine and beverage table around the world," she concludes.

CARDIO HUSTLE: A HIGH-ENERGY FULL-BODY WORKOUT TO BURN CALORIES AND BUILD STRENGTH

Looking for a workout that combines cardio, functional movements, and combat-inspired drills while keeping things fun? Cardio Hustle is designed to make you move, sweat, and challenge your body in ways that target strength, endurance, and coordination, all to the rhythm of music that keeps you motivated.

WHY IT WORKS AS A FULL-BODY WORKOUT

Cardio Hustle is more than just fast-paced movements. Each sequence activates multiple muscle groups at once, integrating upper body, lower body, and the core for a complete conditioning session.

- Upper body: Punches, hooks, and jabs work the shoulders, arms, and upper back, improving strength and coordination.
- Lower body: Squats, lunges, and knee drives engage the glutes, quads, and calves, boosting stability and endurance.
- Core: Every punch, twist, and sprawl recruits the abs and obliques, delivering an intense core workout while supporting full-body movements.

CALORIE BURN AND ENDURANCE BENEFITS

Cardio Hustle blends functional and combat movements with interval-style training to maximise calorie burn and elevate cardiovascular fitness. Alternating between rounds of punches, squats, sprawls, and core exercises ensures that both aerobic and anaerobic systems are challenged. Over time, this improves muscular endurance, heart health, and stamina.

DRILLS AND TECHNIQUES FOR STRENGTH AND COORDINATION

The program mixes classic and dynamic exercises to develop full-body power:

- Combat rounds: Jab-cross combos, hooks, and knees strengthen the upper body while improving timing and agility.
- Functional movements: Sprawls, lunges, and sumo squats work the legs, glutes, and hips while engaging the core.
- Core attack: Russian twists, elbow planks, and leg lifts stabilise the midsection and build rotational strength.
- Music-driven intervals: Each beat guides movement, enhancing coordination and rhythm while pushing intensity.

MORE THAN JUST A CALORIE BURNER

Beyond weight loss and muscle engagement, Cardio Hustle promotes balance, reflexes, and mental focus. The combination of functional and combat movements improves mobility, joint stability, and overall fitness while offering a motivating, high-energy environment that keeps you coming back for more.

THE TAKEAWAY

Cardio Hustle is a dynamic, full-body workout that burns calories, strengthens muscles, and builds endurance. By integrating functional exercises with combat-inspired moves, it provides a challenging yet fun fitness experience that boosts both physical and mental resilience. Perfect for those who want a complete conditioning session in just 30 minutes, Cardio Hustle keeps you moving, sweating, and hustling toward your goals.

THERE is a certain excitement in the air with Deepavali around the corner. The very 'holiday season' that used to excite us when we were youngsters (the 'Age-of-Aquarius 'where we didn't have to work) now seems tedious and long. The holidays, especially for the government institutions, seem to stretch on forever and are sometimes clubbed together to give the already underworked employees a long weekend off!

As a result, any government sanction, registration of property, delay in the courts and a slew of other problems become of low priority. Officials are not in their 'seats' and paperwork is lethargically shuffled from one empty desk to another and one can see the normal populace tearing their hair out.

Oh! But the corporate and private sectors are another ball game altogether. The only way our hardworking millennial kids get any respite from their 12-hour working days is with great difficulty. Next week is my birthday and my only wish is to have a 'family' lunch together.

My sister, her kids and me and mine is my ardent wish. My daughter and son-in-law are in Mumbai and perhaps my daughter cannot get off, but my munchkin will be here for sure! My munchkin is all of three, full of sass and so cute! She is a full-fledged 'threenager' (a very apt pseudonym I coined for her). I can only ardently pray to the 'Gods' that our public servants pray to, so my daughter gets her 'off' time!

Nidhi Kataria and Raj Shroff

But the season of cheer brings along with it, a whole lot of celebrations. People just need an excuse to celebrate so there are pre-Deepavali, post-Navaratri and 'in-anticipation' Christmas events and one cannot forget the 'winter weddings'! And for all that we need more shiny clothes; more jewellery, more shoes and the list can go on. So, all the vendors and local artisans bring their wares to show-case to the thirsting public.

My dearest friend Nidhi Kataria is a fabulous jewellery designer and she designs, executes and markets her own brand 'NidhisArk' which has quite a fan-following of its own (including me)! Raj Shroff is my fave designer and since I've known him for the past 20 years, we know each other pretty well. His quirkiness is very unique and enchanting, so our styles are well synced! They did me the honour of asking me to light the auspicious lamp to flag off their exhibition showcasing a multitude of artisans. Retail therapy and lunch at the venue, JW Marriott! What a wonderful pre-birthday!

Everything Indian seems to be the flavour of the season. Indian designers, Indian clothes, Indian goods and of course, Indian food! Gone are those rich creamy 'curries' and masala-ridden food that we used to dish up to please the 'foreign' palate. Every time someone said 'butter chicken masala,' my hackles rose. Our cuisine differs from north to south and east to west. Our condiments and seasonings are so subtle and varied. To dump everything into one hot, oily mess and call it 'Indian food' and call our subtle rotis 'naanbread' used to give me the proverbial heebie-jeebies! We had the pleasure of dining with Gaurav Shiva, the new GM of Royal Orchid, at their Indian speciality restaurant, Tiger Trail. The food was outstanding! We were served subtle shorbas, excellent protein from their spit-ovens and delicious breads.

'Tis the season, alright!

Award-winning Green to hit theatres on this date

CE FEATURES

GREEN, a psychological mind-bending thriller, has already made waves on the festival circuit, bagging 19 awards at national and international festivals even before hitting theatres. The film's tagline, Monster in You, hints at its dark psychological core. Written and directed by Raj Vijay, it is now set for a release across Karnataka on October 23.

Recently, Shivarajkumar unveiled the film's trailer and wished the entire team great success.

"We've all heard of the Green Revolution, and I hope this Green sparks one in Kannada cinema," says Raj Vijay with quiet confidence. A VFX expert-turned-filmmaker, he describes his debut as a layered, psychological thriller that challenges perceptions. "Green explores the battle between man and his inner demons. It's set largely in a forest near Ooty and includes 22 minutes of special effects. It's a film meant for every kind of viewer."

Presented by Nishanth Ennen's Gunadya Productions, the film is produced by Raj Vijay and BN Swamy. The cast includes Balaji Manohar, Gopalakrishna Deshpande, RJ Vicky, and several others in key roles.

Nishanth, who is presenting the film, shares, "I was blown away by the film. The last fifteen minutes are absolutely unpredictable — that's what convinced me to support this project."

The supporting cast features Shiva Manju, Vishwanath, Dimpy Fadia, along with contributions from cinematographer Madhusudan and music director Shakti Sak.

Atlee praises Kantara: Chapter 1, calls Rishab Shetty and Yash his 'inspirations'

A SHARADHAA

The Jawan filmmaker talks about the latest pan-Indian sensation, Kantara: Chapter 1, actors Yash, Allu Arjun, and why his Shah Rukh Khan film has become an emotion

FILMMAKER Atlee Kumar, the man behind blockbusters like Jawan, Bigil, and Theri, was in Bengaluru for the World Pickleball League (WPL) event, but it was his affection for Karnataka's cinema and culture that truly took center stage.

During his visit, Atlee opened up about his admiration for Kannada films and the storytellers who've redefined South Indian cinema. Speaking about Rishab Shetty's Kantara: Chapter 1, which has crossed the ₹500 crore mark worldwide, Atlee said, "Kantara is unbelievable. I spoke to Rishab, and what he has pulled off is remarkable. I'm really happy for the film."

The director also shared his admiration for the stars who've taken Kannada cinema to national heights. "I'm also a good friend of Yash," Atlee said. "Both Yash and Rishab have contributed immensely, and they're a huge inspiration to filmmakers."

Atlee's bond with Karnataka goes beyond cinema. A devoted follower of the Kukke Subrahmanya Temple, he spoke warmly about his spiritual connection to the state. "I have great faith in Lord Subrahmanya," he said, revealing that he often plans his temple visits around his trips to Bengaluru.

Calling Bengaluru one of his favorite cities, Atlee added, "Bengaluru has always welcomed me with love — whether it's through my films or now through sports."

The filmmaker, who recently ventured into sports ownership with the Bengaluru Jawans Pickleball Team, also spoke about his growing interest in fitness and mental health. "Sports play a huge role in overall well-being. There's no age bar. Pickleball, especially, is an easy and effective way to stay active and mentally balanced. I want to help spread this game across the country," he said.

Atlee, who is now working with Allu Arjun, was asked if he plans to bring the star down for a game. He replied, "We both have packed schedules, but I'll definitely ask Allu if we can play a game of Pickleball sometime."

Atlee expressed gratitude for the phenomenal success of Shahrukh starrer Jawan. "God has been kind. Jawan has received so much love — from the theatres to the National award, and now the Bengaluru Jawans team. For me, Jawan is not just a title; it's an emotion. It stands for strength, protection, and positivity," he said.

Anup Revanna to headline upcoming political drama Kanakaraj

CE FEATURES

ANUP Revanna, known for films like Lakshmana, Kabzaa, and Hide and Seek, has stepped into the lead role in the upcoming political drama Kanakaraj. The film recently kicked off with a muhurat ceremony attended by industry veterans and dignitaries.

Produced by SR Sanath Kumar under the Sukruti Chitralaya banner, Kanakaraj brings together a creative team lead by Dr V Nagendra Prasad, who has penned the story, screenplay, dialogues, and composed the music. Co-directors VM Raju and Neel Kengapura collaborate to bring this political drama to life.

Anup Revanna, son of Karnataka politician HM Revanna, steps confidently into his first major role, portraying a politically active lawyer and an ardent admirer of the Chief Minister. "I play a lawyer who also admires the Chief Minister; it's been an extraordinary experience, and I hope audiences will connect with Kanakaraj," says Anup.

The film stars Nimisha as the female lead, and the ceremonial first clapboard was given by Anup's father, HM Revanna, with politician Ramalinga Reddy and a host of industry stalwarts also present. Expressing his support, Revanna said, "Sanath Kumar is a close friend, and my son Anup is leading this project, the story is strong, and I wish the film every success."

Good sports drama, better character study

THE SMASHING MACHINE

Director: Benny Safdie

Cast: Dwayne Johnson, Emily Blunt, Ryan Bader

THEY say, "Nice guys finish last." Mark Kerr may be a great mixed martial artist in the ring, but is he really a nice person outside of it? The answer is perhaps no, but the best thing about director Benny Safdie's The Smashing Machine is that it never gives you any easy answers. The film is uncompromising in its approach towards unravelling the layers behind this "250-pound monster," as an MMA announcer describes him. In the opening monologue of Safdie's film, we see Kerr (Dwayne Johnson) beating his opponents to a pulp, as if he is in a fit of rage and is out there to take out all his frustrations. In the background, we hear the fighter say that he gets a high from doing what he does. Later, Kerr tells his wife, Dawn Staples (Emily Blunt), that he gains a sense of "orgasm" from winning a battle and listening to thousands of people chanting his name.

Kerr is more of a monster in his private life than he is in the ring. The Smashing Machine chronicles Kerr's professional and personal life a little like how Martin Scorsese's Raging Bull shows Jake LaMotta's life. The MMA fighter's personal life plummets to extreme lows even as his boxing career takes a leap forward. However, there is one major difference between Kerr and LaMotta. Where LaMotta would take an insult from his wife the night before a big fight and let it out on his opponents, any argument with his wife adversely affects Kerr's performance.

The Smashing Machine is smart in terms of how it makes you look at both characters' points of view in the way great films about an unhealthy marriage usually do. The film avoids making any facile judgements about Kerr or his wife, instead providing a comprehensive portrayal of their relationship. For example, when Staples has a go at Kerr for not paying enough attention to her, she accidentally reminds him about the fight he just lost.

What makes it fascinating is that the argument comes shortly after the officials annul the fight he supposedly lost based on a fault by his opponent. An angry Kerr punches a hole through the door next to him while shattering all paraphernalia in the process. The fighter's anger seems to stem equally from his frustration for losing a fight that he feels he should not have lost and for realising that his wife does not understand how the mind of an athlete like him works. After all, nobody wants to be told, "You lost," from someone close, even if that 'failure' is based on a technicality. Just like no one wants a complete lack of attention from their partner, either. Both Staples and Kerr have equal reasons to hate each other.

RATING 3.5/5

The factor that makes The Smashing Machine an even more intriguing document of Kerr's life is Johnson's performance in the lead role. Johnson is virtually unrecognisable after all the weight he has gained to look the part. He also disappears into the role. The actor is at his best in those little moments where Kerr makes a passing look at his opponent that reeks of some disingenuity, or the ones where he has a big altercation with his wife. On the other hand, he throws his weight behind his best friend and fighter Mark Coleman (a solid Ryan Bader), who gets back into MMA for another shot at glory.

However, the film is not without its flaws. The one minor quibble to have with the film is its ending. After taking in all the blows and giving some back, Johnson does not deserve to be sidelined by the real Mark Kerr. Safdie also uses a piece of text just to tell the whole world who this man is, what his legacy is, and what the film is all about. Come on, we get it. However, do not let this minor blemish spoil the film for you. The point of a sports film is to entertain you and make you curious enough about its subject at the very least. In that regard, The Smashing Machine does its job well enough while packing quite the punch.
